A GOOD-BYE COTILLION!

Young People of The Carolina Dance in Honor of Departing Guest.

Mr. J. Henry Hentz, 3rd, Philadelphia, and Miss Helen Barnett, New Haven, Lead.

An invitation Cotillion at the Carolina Thursday evening, given in honor of Miss Bessie Hentz Baltz of Phila., who is just leaving after a long sojourn here with Mrs. J. Henry Hentz, was a delightful social event of the week past. Twelve couples participated and the ball room was crowded with onlookers.

The patronesses were Mrs. J. Henry Hentz, Philadelphia, Mrs. Frederick K. Gaston, Mrs. William C. Freeman, New York, Mrs. C. B. Ryan, Portsmouth, Va., and Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Bridgeport, Conn.

Mrs. Frank Presbrey, New York, and Mrs. William E. Barnett, New Haven, presided at the favor tables.

The success of the affair was largely due to a committee of managers of which Mrs. St. John Smith of Portland, Maine, was the leader.

Mr. J. Henry Hentz, 3rd, of Philadelphia and Miss Helen Barnett of New Haven, Conn., lead through a program of merry figures.

LEAP YEAR GERMAN.

A leap year German is being arranged for the near future which promises to be both unique and enjoyable. In this event, the men will merely be incidental, entirely at the mercy of their fair entertainers.

for the men's prize, Mr. Hentz winning first in the play-off.

Miss Helen Barnett of New Haven, Conn., won the womens prize and Miss Barnett and Miss Fanny Heffelfinger of Minneapolis, Minn., tied for second, Miss Heffelfinger winning in the play off.

Mrs. Smith and Miss Freeman were assisted by Mr. LeRoy W. Johnson.

Following the event there were several sweepstake events for men, and a feature of them was the making of a perfect score, eighteen out of a possible eighteen, by Mr. LeRoy W. Johnson, of New York.

Acrostic.

Please look for the brightest side of life—
Instead of clouds and gloom and strife,
Never think of things that make you sad—
Enjoy each day,—be cheerful and glad.
Have you not blessings you never claim,
Until too late?—then who is to blame,
Remember good thoughts give what they sow
Sweet peace and sunshine, wherever they go,
To all I say,—be happy and free.

MIXED FOURSOMES POPULAR!

Saturday's Handicap Tournament Draws Field of Thirty-two Entries.

W. C. Johnson, New York, and Miss Fanny Heffelfinger, Minneapolis, Win by Small Margin.

THE popularity of mixed foursomes here was demonstrated by the large list of entries in Saturday's eighteen-hole medal play handicap for the George Washington trophies offered for the best net score. Close scores were a feature of the event and W. C. Johnson of New York, and Miss Fanny Heffelfinger of Minneapolis, the winners, who played with a handicap of twelve, and made a net score of ninety-two, led their nearest opponents, A. E. Lard of Washington, and Miss Barnett of New Haven, and H. A. Fisher, Chicago and Miss C. Morton of Boston, who tied at second, only four strokes.
