VOL. VIII, NO. 2.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER TWENTY-SIXTH.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

CLEVER IMPERSONATIONS

Thanksgiving Eve Party at Holly Inn the Four. Furnishes Merry Evening.

C. F. Hansel, of Rochester Mrs. E. G. Hayes, of Canandaigua, N. Y., are Prize Winners.

HE informal social affairs which are always a pleasant feature of life at The Holly Inn, were successfully begun Thanksgiving eve with a Book Party in which many of the guests of the Village participated. Numerous elever impersonations were seen and a merry evening was spent in figuring out the problem which each presented. There were prizes for the best representations, and the largest number of correct guesses for both men and women.

Master C. F. Hansel won the men's prize as Nicholas Nicholby. He wore upon the left lapel of his coat, a nickel resting upon the letter S, Nickel S; and on the right the same coin resting upon the letter B, Nickle B-Nicholas Nicholby.

The committee of judges found a decision among the women more difficult and the representations of Mrs. E. G. Hayes, of Canandaigua, N. Y., Mrs. B. B. Glenny, of Sheffield, Mass., Miss Ellen F. Cary, of Buffalo, Mrs. Montgomery A. Crockett, of Buffalo, and Mrs. H. B. Evans were declared equally good and a draw resulted which Mrs Hayes won.

Mr. Aldice G. Warren, of Rochester, N. Y., took the men's prize for the largest number of correct guesses, and Miss Mary M. Wilbur, of Canandaigua, N. Y., and Miss Lizzie E. Olney, of Bath, Me., tied for the women's prize, Miss Wilbur winning.

THE IMPER

Mrs. E. G. Hayes carried an open story book in which rested several rings-Jewel's Story Book.

Mrs. B. B. Glenny wore a picture in colors showing the ell of a house and an old well resting upon a stone arch bridge -Elwell on Bridge.

Miss Ellen S. Cary was gowned after the fashion of a maiden of the ancient times and carried a small box containing a pair of dice-Old Maids Paradise.

Mrs. Montgomery A. Crockett stood between a framework upon either side of which were lines of cord—Between the Lines.

was masked—The Masquerader.

Mrs. A. C. Babson wore a figure 4 and a spray of English Ivy (IV)—The Sign of Miss M. M. Wilbur wore a clay pipe and the letter K-Calumet K.

Miss Mae Bedell wore a red domino and Brooklyn bridge at a distance—Advanced Bridge.

> Miss Elizabeth Macfarlane wore a card containing the words; False?" "Never!" below which was a group of ants-The

Miss M. M. Fiske wore a card referring Mrs. Leonard Tufts were the tips of to the Chapter of Luke which tells the four beautiful peacock feathers—The story of the Prodigal Son—The Prodigal Seasons Tournament Program Opened Saturday with Handicap Event.

G. DeWitt Williamson of New York, and Mrs. Leonard Tufts of Medford, are Cup Winners.

VIDENCE that Target Pistol Shooting is to be even more popular this season than last, was shown at the first handieap tournament of the year, held Saturday afternoon. Six participated, an equal representation of men and women, and a number witnessed the sport.

Cups were offered for the two best net scores both of which were won by scratch participants: G. DeWitt Williamson of New York, taking the mens cup with a score of 68, and Mrs. Leonard Tufts of Medford, Mass., the womans cup with a target of 51.

The event was ten shots at the Standard American target at fifty yards and three sighting shots were allowed.

THE SCORES IN DETAIL

	Gr.	Hdp.	Net
G. DeWitt Williamson,
New York City	68	0	68
Herbert L. Jillson,
Worcester, Mass.	64	0	64
W. E. Scott,
Portland, Maine.	38	25	68
Mrs. Leonard Tufts,
Medfo.d, Mass.	51	0	51
Mrs. F. H. Abbott,
Bethlehem, N. H.	28	20	48
Mrs. B. B. Glenny,
Sheffield, Mass.	8	20	28

Weekly shoots will be held throughout the season, of which due notice will be given.

Cottages Filling.

The cottages are filling up rapidly, and the coming of these visitors is always welcomed for they add a quiet charm to the social life here which is characteristic only of Pinehurst.

Among the recent arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. G. Lee Knight, Mrs. Bradford Knight, children and maid, of Philadelphia, who are occupying the Honeysuckle.

Mrs. Frank Winters, of Dresden, N. Y., joins Mrs. E. G. Hayes at the Yucca.

THANKSGIVING JOYS.

Four Feathers.

Mrs. W. E. Scott carried a dummy booklet marked "Constitution of the United States"-The Law of the Land.

Miss Eula Davis wore a card containing the letter D resting upon a key, below which was a bill and a cup of tea: D on key owe (bill) tea-Don Quixote.

Mrs. C. B. Crockett held a picture of Son.

Miss Mary Mason wore a card containing this inscription "Gnikool"-Looking

Mrs. E. T. Underhill was We Two, and Mrs. J. D. Currier, Over the Tea Cups.

Mrs. Charles Hansel wore a card containing the inscription "Love"-The

(Concluded on Seventh Page)