AT THE HARVARD.

Week Brings its Quota of Guests—
House Well Filled.

The week has brought its quota of guests to The Harvard and the hotel remains well filled.

Mrs. Henry W. Chapman and Mrs. F. McKenzie, of New York, are among the recent arrivals. They stopped over en route on their way South, intending to spend but a short time, but were so delighted with Pinehurst that they will probably remain throughout the season.

Prof. C. W. Burkett, of the A. and M. College, West Raleigh, N. C., spent Sunday here.

Purchasing Agent P. J. and Mrs. Ward are spending a short time here previous to occupying their apartments in The Tremont.
