J. V. Hall Wins Friday's Shoot With Single Target—W. H. Hervey Leads Tuesday.

TRAP shooting is playing an important part in the list of early season sports and there is a constant increase both on the part of participants and on-lookers in the informal events which are now being held Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

It is doubtful if any sport here has more interest for the "gallery," and it seems to appeal especially to those who have never handled a gun, and many women are included among those who watch the events.

FRIDAY'S SHOOT.

Last Friday's shoot drew a field of six contestants and there was a pretty fight for the cup offered for the best score. The event was 25 single targets from the expert traps and was shot from scratch, J. V. Hall, of Pittsburg, winning by a single bird with 15, J. C. Thompson, of East Liverpool, O., Herbert L. Jillson, of Worcester, Mass., and A. C. Babson, of South Orange, N. J., tied for second with 14 each.

TUESDAY'S SHOOT.

There were eight contestants in Tuesday's shoot, a twenty-five single target, expert trap handicap event. Messrs. Hall, Thompson and Jillson conceded a handicap allowance of five targets to the field, but W. H. Hervey, of New York, did not need the allowance, winning with 15.

F. A. King, of Northboro, Mass., and Messrs. Jillson, Thompson and Hall tied for second at 14 each. G. L. Knight, Philadelphia; W. H. Moffitt, New York; and W. M. S. Magraw, Philadelphia, were among the other contestants and a goodly company watched the shooting.

Another event of the same character is taking place as THE OUTLOOK goes to press.

FROM THE MARKET GARDEN.

AN ATTRACTIVE BOOKLET.

"Winter Homes in the South" Ready for Distribution.

The Southern Railway has issued a very attractive edition of its usual publication, "Winter Homes in the South." The cover design is an attractive one in colors, and the book is filled with beautiful half tones, and interesting information, together with a tabulated list of hotels.

Two pages devoted to Pinehurst, contain the following information:

Pinehurst is nestled among the pine-clad hills of Moore county, North Carolina, at an elevation of 650 feet above the level of the sea, and is one of North Carolina's famous resorts. The sand-hill region of the state of North Carolina has long been famed as a natural sanitarium, an elysium where nature is lavish of her gifts, conducive to that greatest boon to mankind, health. No case of consumption was ever known to originate here, and Pinehurst is one of the few resorts in the country where consumptives are entirely excluded. * * * *

The climate of Pinehurst and the surrounding country is mild and soothing, and its wonderful effects are noticeable in the cheerful manner of the favored ones, whose better judgement has led them to select it for their winter quarters.

UNIQUELY ATTRACTIVE.

New Pinehurst Booklet on Golf Ready for Distribution.

A uniquely attractive booklet, "The Royal and Ancient Game of Golf at Pinehurst," is now ready for distribution and may be had on application to the Pinehurst General Office or of Mr. Leonard Tufts, Boston.

The cover design depicts "ye game of ye olden times" in colors and the interior of the booklet is filled with interesting illustrations, two in colors and many in tints. Among the photographic reproductions are many of well-known golfers who are frequent visitors here.
