NEW AND NOVEL FEATURES

They are Conspicuous Part of Tuesday's Equestrian Gymkhana.

Big Company of Onlookers Enjoy Afternoon of Merriment and Entertainment.

ANY new and novel features added to the interest of Tuesday afternoons Gymkhana, a big field participating and several hundred onlookers enjoying the fun. Track and ring events were equally divided and there was variety in the program; the amusing and the ludicrous, happily intermingling with more spirited contests which called for nerve and skill; keen friendly rivalry for the possession of the ribbons offered giving zest to every finish.

The program opened with a short cavalry drill following which came the ludicrous doughnut race which proved, as usual, not half as easy as it looked, the manner in which the fried ciphers spun and wiggled making many declare that they were alive. The trick was to ride to a doughnut, grasp it in the teeth, without the aid of the hands, and return after riding around a "stake horse" stationed across the ring.

Three heats were necessary owing to the entry list, Mr. Todd and Miss Margenthau, Mr. Barrett and Mrs. Moore, Mr. Hurd and Mrs. Lindenberg, winning the trials and meeting in the finals which Mr. Hurd, Mr. Barrett, Mrs. Lindenberg, Mrs. Moore, Miss Margenthau and Mr. Todd won in the order given.

Next came a brand new event which promises to be popular, the clothes pin race. The trick was to ride to clothes pins, four in number, placed upon shingles, and to transfer them to other shingles upon the opposite side of the ring, and to do the trick right required clever handling of horses, speed and steadiness in adjustment and removal.

Two preliminary heats were run, Mr. Margenthau, Miss Burch and Miss Margenthau; Mr. Barrett, Miss Higgins and Mr. Creamer winning; Mr. Barrett, Mr. Margenthau, Miss Margenthau and Miss Burch finishing in the order given in the finals.

Another new number followed, the bean carrying contest, and the riders struggled and the crowd roared throughout it. What to do was easy enough to understand, but how to do it was a problem which Miss Boyer solved by a long lead over the field; her theory being that the slower she went the more beans she could transfer in the allotted time.

Five hundred and nine was her total with Miss Margenthau second with 423, Mr. Barrett third with 374, Mr. Burch of beans he made across the ring, showed.

Miss Day scored 129, Mr. Creamer 35, and Miss Paterson 21, it being generally conceded that there were "holes" in the spoons carried by the latter trio.

DAVID FLEMING, JR.

fourth with 312, Mr. Margenthau fifth with 285 and Mr. Palmer sixth with 255, Mr. Todd being seventh with 124, a forceful illustration that "haste makes waste" as not only his score, but the white trail

Track events were next in order, the familiar and always interest-holding, lance and ring contest being first; the trick was to go the length of the track (Concluded on page 3.)
