A Fair Request.

This dainty little verse is calling attention to the coming Rose Garden Bazar and the Church Building Fund:

For smiles, for tears, for greetings, too
For farewells long, or brief,
The thing that's in the most demand,
Is this:—the Handkerchief.

A Handkerchief is what we want,
Of linen, silk, or lace;
For even a bandanna one,
We'll gladly find a place.

The reason why we ask, is this:
Our Church has come to stay,
A Handkerchief will help, you see,
To keep a debt away.

ABOUT SHAW UNIVERSITY

ITS REMARKABLE GROWTH.

Shaw University has had a remarkable growth, and its capacity for the last three years for receiving students has been taxed to the utmost. The attendance last year was 526, and the present purpose of the management is to lessen the attendance to prevent overcrowding. The annual cost of maintenance is over $40,000, and the gifts last year for new buildings amounted to a little more than $23,000.

CHARLES F. MESERVE,
President of Shaw University.
