

THE HOLLY INN

PINEHURST, N. C.

The Holly Inn is one of the most attractive hotels in the South. Since it was built in 1895, it has been necessary to enlarge it several times to meet the constantly increasing demand. The interior is elegant, cheerful and tasteful. No modern convenience is lacking. There are bath rooms, electric lights, steam heat and open fireplaces. There is a call bell in every room, and all beds are furnished with best hair mattresses. An orchestra furnishes fine concerts daily, and also provides for dancing. The cuisine is unsurpassed. The waitresses are all white girls from the North. Rooms for billiards and other games are provided in the hotel.

TAXING VILLAGE CAPACITY

Incoming Midseason Visitors Fill Hotels to Overflowing.

Wondrous Days of Glorious Sunshine and Balm Air Keep All Much Out of Doors.

MIDSEASON arrivals have filled the hotels very close to their capacity during the week, a large and merry throng which is finding enjoyment in many social pleasures and making the most of days of glorious sunshine and balmy air. Old and new friends there are, nearly all planning extended visits and many looking forward to remaining until May. Surely, in view of conditions existing elsewhere, Pinehurst has cause for congratulation, for never has its permanent popularity been more forcibly demonstrated.

At The Carolina.

Social interest of the week has centered in The Carolina with the Cotillion as the most brilliant and enjoyable feature enjoyed by a company of participants and onlookers which taxed the capacity of the spacious music hall to its utmost. The semi-weekly hops were also well attended and plans are making for a round of pleasure for the remaining weeks of the season, among the most important being the annual masquerade ball of the Tin Whistles, booked for Monday evening, and which promises to eclipse anything of the kind ever held here.

AMONG THE GUESTS.

Prominent among the week's arrivals are Bandmaster and Mrs. John Philip Sousa, who return for a long sojourn, welcomed by a large circle of acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Davidge of Binghamton, N. Y., join Mr. Davidge.
