Archery Party at The Holly Inn Enmeshes All in Its Net.

Men and Women Contest for World's Championship and Glittering Array of Prizes.

TUESDAY evening's "archery party" at The Holly Inn demonstrated very clearly that the joys of Cupid's existence have been very much exaggerated, and awakened profound respect for the Indian who once lived almost entirely by the bow and arrow, and seldom has an evening of informal pleasure provided more genuine merriment. The music hall was crowded with hotel guests and cottagers and as the fun progressed, young and old entered into the spirit of the occasion with zest, the desire to try bringing all to the firing line sooner or later in spite of most determined protests earlier in the evening, for it looked so very easy and proved so very difficult that the fascination was infectious.

Details of arrangements were in the hands of an active committee, all with elaborate titles, including Chief Bow Archer, Mrs. Booth Tarkington of Indianapolis; Eminent Quiver Bearer, Miss Jessie Thayer of Milwaukee; Grand Scribe, Miss Bernadette Herman of Washington; and Dan Cupids, Mr. Mason Evans of Youngstown, O., Mr. W. S. Dillon of Fitchburg, Mr. Leslie D. Pierce of Rochester, Vt., and Mr. Herbert L. Jillson of Worcester; not the least interesting of the preliminaries the announcement poster which said much but conveyed little, paying due tribute to Cupid and the Indian.

The targets were monster cardboard affairs with large red hearts for bullseyes, surrounded by three circles, and scoring 500, 300, 200 and 100 respectively, at which six shots were allowed, and the distance at which the shooting was done so close that at first glance, it would seem that the trick was rather to miss than to hit the target, but the scores of the evening proved that all quick conclusions are invariably deceptive. As for prizes the number was sufficient to bestow honor upon those who did not win rather than upon those who did, and as for classes and events they ranged all the way from World's Championship, and matches for experts and novices, down to the team shoot which brought the evening to a close, maintaining interest at high pitch.

The first number on the program was the expert event and the results made it necessary for the committee to rearrange its classification before making an announcement, when Mr. Arthur Malcolm of Bethlehem, who had not had a bow in his hand since he was a boy, and whom the committee reluctantly placed in and 300, respectively, making a shoot-off, amid breathless silence, necessary; Mr. Porter scoring 1900 to 900 for his opponent.

Mr. R. M. Hamilton of Pelham, turned in a score of 700, Manager A. I. Creamer and Mr. A. J. Leach of Cleveland, making 500 each, Master Charles Story of Buffalo, Mr. Dillon, Mr. L. E. Martin of novice division feeling they really ought to make a special class for him, turned in the highest score of the list with a total of 1100, hits counting 100-100-300-300-100 and 200. In second place Mr. John E. Porter of Pittsburg, and Mr. Leslie D. Pierce tied at 800, scoring 200-200-200 and 200, and 100-100-300

New York, Mr. D. D. Christy of Guelph, Can., and Mr. Hugh Hartzone of Jersey City, 400, with Mr. Evans, Mr. Jillson and Mr. Verner Malcolm of Bethlehem, in a triple tie at 100, and thankful to get that!

Next in order came the women's

R. H. MC ELWEE THE WINNER

Takes First Annual Mid-April Tourney Final from J. E. Porter.

Charles Blackburn, George W. Watts and Mason Evans are Also Trophy Winners.

A SMALL but fast field, indicative of its popularity and the wisdom of its inception, participated in the first annual Mid-April golf tournament, brisk play ruling throughout the contest from Thursday's qualification tie to today's match play final.

In this morning's battle for the President's or first division trophy, R. H. McElwee of the Onwentsia Golf club, former Florida champion, and John E. Porter of the Alleghany Country club, winner of the annual Spring tournament here, fought it out, the westerner having a bit the best of it from the start turning home three up and winning on the fourteenth green, six up and four to play.

In the semi-final round, Mr. McElwee beat L. D. Pierce of Rochester, three up and one to play, in the second, J. E. Kellogg of the Alpine club, Fitchburg, 1 up; winning the first round from A. J. Woodward of Pepperell, by default. Mr. Porter's semi-final was with J. D. Coffey of the Franklin Park club, whom he defeated three up and two to play, his second round with R. M. Hamilton of Wykagyl, which he won by four up and three to play, and his first with L. E. Martin of Baltusrol, which was five up and four to play.

Charles Blackburn of the Ridge Golf club, Chicago, won the consolation from J. V. Hurd of the Pittsburg Country club, three up and two to play and George W. Watts of Durham, and N. H. Wallace of Halifax, fought it out to the nineteenth hole in the Governor's Cup or second division, Mr. Watts winning. Mason Evans of Mahoning, was the winner of the second division consolation, defeating L. M. Sherwood of Medina, in the final round, two up.

In qualification Mr. McElwee tied with Mr. Blackburn at eighty-three in the race for the cup offered for the best score and are playing off the tie as THE OUTLOOK goes to press. Mr. Porter, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Coffey and Mr. Hurd, were next in line with scores ranging from eighty-four to ninety.
