TRAVIS WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Former British and American Champion
Plays in Record Form.

Twenty-one Hole Contest With W. C.
Fownes, Jr. is Brilliant Feature of Notable Tournament.

RLAYING in record form throughout the week, Walter J. Travis carried off both qualification and match play honors in the tenth Annual United North and South Amateur golf Championship, finding only one "hazard" on the journey. From start to finish the former British and American champion was consistent, almost mechanical in his accuracy, round after round varying only a stroke or two, and against his skill few he met could cope. Undoubtedly Travis is still Travis; still a figure to be counted on when experts congregate.

In the thirty-six hole final W. R. Tuckerman of Chevy Chase, who by coincidence of the draw started the top of the bracket, met Mr. Travis and speculation formed the subject of many interested club house and hotel corridor groups.

Rarely has a larger gallery assembled to witness an important final contest and it grew in volume as the match progressed. The first hole was halved, Mr. Travis winning the honor on the second hole but losing it on the fourth, gaining a lead of two up with wins on the sixth and seventh. The tenth and eleventh were halved, Mr. Travis won the twelfth, halved the thirteenth, lost the fourteenth, halved the fifteenth and sixteenth, lost the seventeenth and gained the lead again on the eighteenth. The cards:

TRAVIS	-4	4	4	5	4	3	5	4	4	-37
TUCKERMAN	-4	5	4	4	4	4	6	4	3	-38
TRAVIS	-4	4	4	4	5	3	5	4	4	-37-74
TUCKERMAN	-4	4	6	4	4	3	5	3	5	-38-76

Mr. Travis started the afternoon round at a record gait, took the first hole with a par four to a bad six for his opponent, and lost the second, six-four. A pair of threes and a four captured the next three holes, the sixth and seventh were halved, and a two for Tuckerman won the eighth, but a bad six lost the ninth, and the Chevy Chase player turned homeward four down. Things brightened up a bit on the tenth when Tuckerman went down in three laying an approach iron from a pit dead to the hole. The eleventh was a halve and Travis took the next two holes and halved the fourteenth for the match. The bye holes were played and his card for the round, a brilliant 73:

OUT	-4	6	3	3	4	3	5	3	5	-36
IN	-4	5	4	4	5	3	4	3	5	-37-73

Mr. Tuckerman's card was a seventy-eight:

OUT	-6	4	4	4	6	3	5	2	6	-40
IN	-3	5	5	5	3	4	4	4	4	-38-78

The climax of the match came in the second round when Mr. Travis met W.

gallery in suspense, a win in two on the short seventeenth, shifting odds in favor of Mr. Travis, only to see the pendulum swing back again when Mr. Fownes took the eighteenth in four to five. The nineteenth and twentieth holes were halved in par fours, and the gallery waited around the twenty-first tee for the final test. The Pittsburger's drive was slightly pulled, and his iron missed the green. Travis' drive was a trifle short but straight down the course, and his iron made the green. Fownes' approach ran past the hole, and Travis

WALTER J. TRAVIS.

C. Fownes, Jr., of Oakmont, and as usual the battle raged fast and furious and not until the twenty-first green was reached did the smoke clear and the Garden City expert claim the brilliant victory. It was nip and tuck to the turn where Mr. Travis was one hole to the good, and he increased his lead to two up on the tenth, but the score was all even again on the twelfth green. An alternate win and lose on the thirteenth and fourteenth, and halves on the fifteenth and sixteenth, kept the big played safe. Fownes made a try for a half, missed, and Travis went down in four. The cards:

TRAVIS	-5	4	4	4	5	3	6	3	5	-39
FOWNES	-5	4	5	6	4	4	5	4	4	-41
TRAVIS	-4	5	4	6	3	4	2	5	-38-77
FOWNES	-5	4	3	5	4	3	4	3	4	-35-76
TRAVIS	-4	4	4	-12	-89
FOWNES	-4	4	5	-13	-89

In the semi-final Allan Lard of Chevy Chase, twice winner of the Championship, was the victim, four up and three

SMITH-BARROWS.

Mrs. Henry St. John Smith Becomes Bride of Mr. C. D. Barrows.

The many friends of Mrs. Henry St. John Smith an annual visitor for many years, will be interested in the following clipping from the Portland Telegram relative to her marriage on April 3, to Mr. Charles D. Barrows:

The marriage of Mrs. Henry St. John Smith and Charles D. Barrows, both prominently identified in Portland's social circles, took place at high noon on Saturday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Henry G. Beyer, Jr., on Pine Street. Only the immediate relatives of the families were present. Mr. Malcomb Barrows acted as best man, and the bride was attended by her son, Mr. Henry St. John Smith, and daughter Mrs. Henry G. Beyer. Reverend Raymond Calkins was the officiating clergyman. The bride wore her traveling suit of a mauve shade, and a becoming small toque of violets. Mr. and Mrs. Barrows left immediately following the marriage ceremony for a brief wedding trip and on their return they will be at "Belfield" on the Cape shore, where they will pass the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows have long been prominent members of the Country Club, and it fell to the lot of several of their fellow golfing experts to give
