

THE GREAT WINDFOWL GUN

Remington

AUTOLOADING SHOTGUN

The Great Duck and Goose Gun That Has No Rival for Bagging the Limit.

Remington Autoloading Shotgun—absorbs the recoil—easy on the shoulder. The recoil ejects the empty, throws a loaded shell in place, and cocks the gun, to the tune of five shots—three to stop the cripples. Your trigger finger does it all—never a lost motion at the time when quickness counts.

THE CAROLINA OPENING

Anticipated by Entire Village as Marking Midseason's Commencement

Old Friends Already There and Advance Bookings Large—Week of Many Arrivals

ANTICIPATED by the entire Village is the formal opening of The Carolina next Saturday; a hundred or more arrivals booked for the first day, joining those already occupying rooms there. As usual the occasion will be observed with a "house warming" hop to which the invitation is general. At The Holly Inn a large and congenial company is quartered, immediate bookings very large and the week a delightful one to which social affairs have contributed their quota. Interest has naturally been centered in the Holiday week golf tournament but tennis, shooting, fox hunting, and riding have all claimed many, rare days following one after another as the old year departs in a blaze of glory.

AMONG THE GUESTS

Late arrivals at The Inn include Mr. and Mrs. William Browning, Miss Therese D. Browning and Master William C. Browning of New York, who return for their usual visit.
