The Morning After

A city chap went to work for a farmer out in one of the western counties of North Carolina. At three o'clock the next morning the farmer called him to begin the day's labors. A few minutes later the young man came out of the bedroom carrying his grip.

"You an't a-goin' to take that grip with you to work, air you?" asked the farmer.

"Naw," answered the man with a fine scorn, "but I'm going to find some place to stay for the rest of the night!"

Rifle Shooting Popular

Many are enjoying rifle shooting under the guidance of Mr. Moore, the sport especially popular among the women.

COTILLION A JOLLY ROMP

Younger Set Makes Merry at First of Winter's More Formal Dances

Figures Largely Old Favorites, Among Them Tandem Steeple Chase and Men's Ballet

ALTHOUGH planned on informal lines and arranged on short notice, Wednesday evening's Cotillion at The Carolina provided a merry romp for the younger set which is already planning for other dances more elaborate. Attractive decorations, gave the music hall a gala appearance and many onlookers enjoyed the fun.

The figures were largely old favorites among them the tandem steeplechase in which pairs of young men and women raced about the hall, and the ever ludicrous ballet for the men in which skill in the art terpsichore meant a dance and the lack of it, a man for a partner. There was also "slipper rush" for men and a handkerchief dash for the fairer sex, a "Follow the Man from Cooks" which led to West End and back, and drawing and jig-saw puzzle contests.

The attractive favors included huge paper lion costumes and medicine bottles, roses and poppies, canes and boas, cigarettes and fans, musical pipes and siren horns. Punch was served at intermission, dancing ceased at midnight. At the favor booths were Mrs. Lee B. Durstine, Mrs. F. N. Sewall, Mrs. F. J. Marion and Mrs. J. A. Brown. Mr. Justus Kendall, Mr. Roy S. Durstine and Mr. Paul E. Gardner led. Arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. Brown, Misses Sewall, Lewis, Waters and Rathburn.

SELF-LOADING RIFLES

Made In
.32, .35, .351 and .401 Calibers

There is nothing to take your mind off the game if you shoot a Winchester Self-Loading Rifle. The recoil does the reloading for you, which places complete control of the gun under the trigger finger, and permits shooting it as fast as the trigger can be pulled. These rifles are made in calibers suitable for hunting all kinds of game. They are safe, strong and simple in action; easy to load and unload and easy to take down.
