NEWCOMB AND WESTCOTT

landed the money with one hundred and eighty-eight; Newcomb and Laslie tied for second at one hundred and eighty-five and Westcott third in one hundred and seventy-nine. Taylor tied with Welles at one hundred and eighty-nine; Lyon third in one hundred and eighty-eight. In Wednesday's program a duplicate of Thursday, Westcott had things his own way with a score of one hundred and eighty-four; Newcomb second in one hundred and seventy-two; and Clarke third in one hundred and seventy-one. Taylor made one hundred and eighty-eight, Welles one hundred and eighty and German and Lyon tied at one hundred and seventy-seven.

HIGH AVERAGE MEDALS

One gold and two silver medals were and in seven hundred and eleven, and Dr. Culver third in six hundred and ninety-six.

THE HANDICAP COMMITTEE

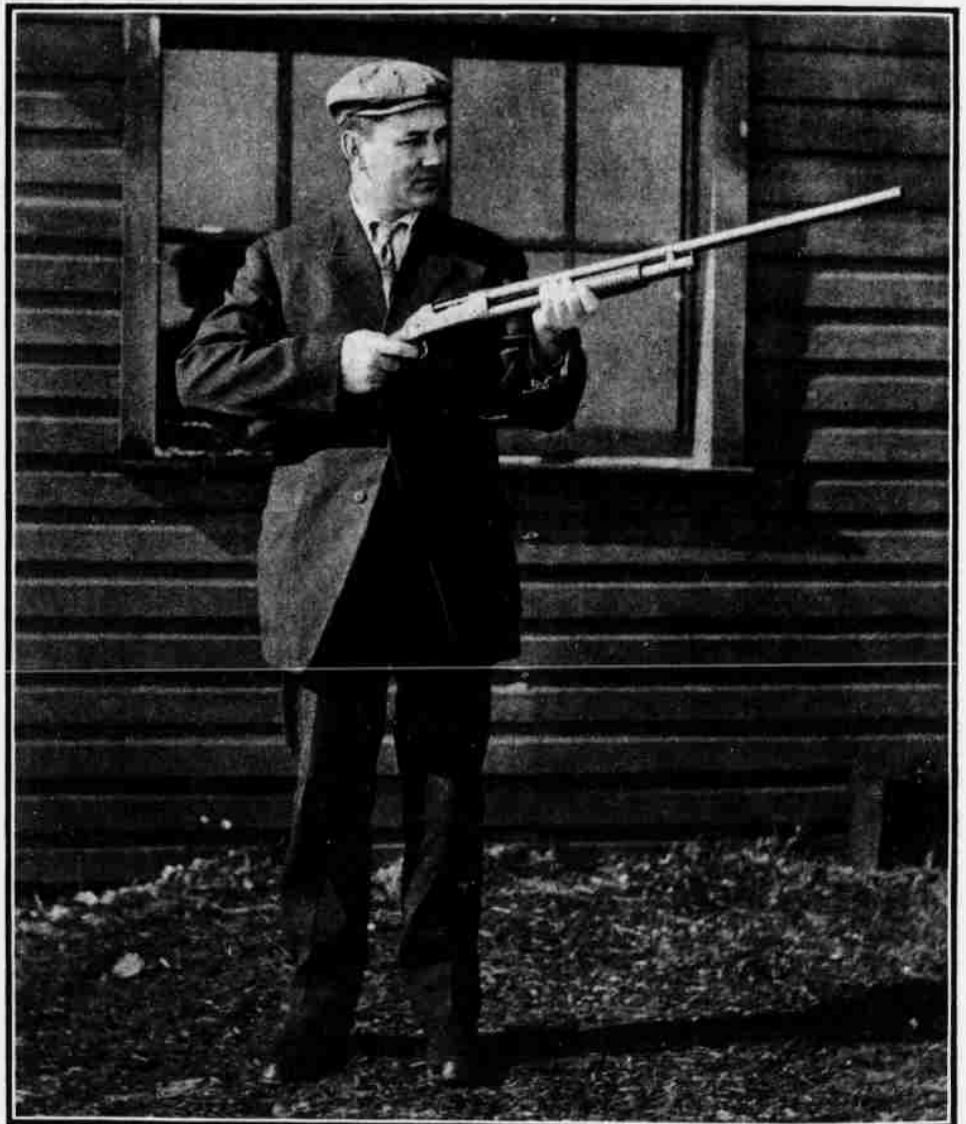

The committee on handicaps included Dr. Culver and Messrs. Billings, Newcomb, Clarke, Laslie and J. H. Anderson.

ELABORATE PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

Plans for the next year's shoot make the event a leader, the total added money $1860.00 and including a $500.00 guarantee to the winner of the Handicap and a $200.00 guarantee to the winner of the Preliminary, $500.00 in trophies and based on fifty amateur entries on the Squier money back system, $400.00 additional added money. Luther J. Squier will manage the shoot and the Handicap Committee will be made up from the participants.

THE SCORES BY STRINGS

The scores for the week tell the story fully, the rise and fall of the battle

PROFESSIONAL J. R. TAYLOR, WINNER HIGH AVERAGE GOLD MEDAL

awarded for the best scores in the six hundred targets shot at, from sixteen yards, the sweepstakes, in which Newcomb led with five hundred and forty-six or ninety-one per cent. Westcott was second in five hundred and thirty-six or eighty-nine and one third per cent. and Dr. Culver third in five twenty-nine or eighty-eight and a half per cent. In a similar event for the professionals with first and second trophies, Taylor won with five hundred and sixty-seven, Welles second in five hundred and fifty-eight and Lyon third in five hundred and fifty-two. The special amateur trophy for the best score of the entire program of eight hundred targets, was won by Westcott with seven hundred and thirteen; Newcomb sec-waged as targets were won or lost, all because of an indefinable something which the shooters "feel" but cannot express. In some cases low averages were due to the wind which made the targets erratic.
