THE SPRING COTILLION

(Concluded from page one)

one in which young women carrying razors, posed as barbers; the young men who waited to be "shaved" merely being taken out as partners. The "Home Tomorrow—Over Sunday" and the "Will-he Tell—Very Doubtful" numbers were rapid change and apple races, entered into with the usual enthusiasm which characterizes all ball room "stunts."

Realistic paper costumes were used effectively in "Extra Dry" and "Mi Favorita," huge wine bottles concealing the men and giant cigars the women. In "Surely this is very funny", wise owls disguised the women and realistic ravens, the men. Partners were also selected in the "Isn't this awful cutie?" waltz by drawing duplicate favors from huge "Jack Horner" pies, and in the "Would you think they were dancers?" number, the men took out the men and the women, the women; the climax coming when the women were called upon to favor the men and lead.

The attractive favors in addition to those already mentioned, included crush opera hats and dainty turbans in the "Old Madrid" two-step, and tiny fox hunter's horns and horses' heads, in the "A hunting we will go" two-step. Numerous "Paul Jones" and "Puss in the Corner" figures proved as popular as ever in bringing the dancers together in varying combinations.

Mr. Justus Kendall of Worcester, led "stag" assisted by Mr. Roy S. Durstine of New York and Miss Ruby Sewall of Kansas City, Mr. W. S. Dillon of Fitchburg and Miss Barbara C. Lewis of Philadelphia. At the favor booths were Mrs. J. D. Climo and Mrs. M. B. Johnson of Cleveland, Mrs. A. L. Calder, 2d, of Providence, Mrs. L. E. Beall of Uniontown, Mrs. F. N. Sewall of Kansas City.
