THEY DANCED BY MOONLIGHT

Annual Spring Cotillion is Delightfully Suggestive of the Season

Decorations, Figures and Favors Combine to Make the Affair Winter's Merriest Dance

DELIGHTFULLY suggestive of the season was the annual Spring Cotillion at The Carolina, providing one of the merriest evenings of the winter not alone for the dancers, but a company of spectators which bestowed liberal applause in expression of appreciation. Daintily decorated in floral garlands, the music hall was as refreshing as an open air garden, the effect heightened by the garlands carried in the opening march led by the little Misses Margaret Good, Norma Morgan, Winifred Croft and Eleanor Croft.

Of surprises there were many, among them a glorious "moon," by the light of whose mellow glow four numbers were danced; weirdly beautiful the kaleidoscope of color and motion. The figures were mainly jolly romps with the men's ballet (In Patee), the women's scarf dance (From Carlo) and the sack race in hobble form, under the guise of "Spring Modes are Stunning," most amusing. In the "Peek a Boo" two step or curtain figure, rag dolls for partners created a ripple of laughter and "The Modern Woman" was surely in advance of her time, armed with huge razors which were the keys to partners. Broken hearts were also "mended" before dancing could be begun and playing cards matched. The attractive favors included boutonnieres of lillies of the valley and peach blossoms, crush opera hats and turbans, and other showy trifles. Several Paul Jones circles were enjoyed and there were the usual noise makers, as well as confetti.

Mr. Paul E. Gardner and Miss Caroline W. Fuller and Mr. E. L. Scofield, Jr., and Miss Priscilla Beall assisted Mr. and Mrs. Justus Kendall in leading. At the favor booths were Mrs. L. M. Hart and Mrs. A. H. Wetten, Mrs. B. H. Marshall and Mrs. J. H. Northrup. Ices were served at intermission and the music catchy and appropriate. Dancing were: Mr. Scofield, Miss Beall; Mr. Paul Gardner, Miss Fuller; Mr. Ralph Gardner, Miss Ballantyne; Mr. W. S. Dillon, Miss Shannon; Mr. Banes, Miss Waldo; Mr. T. F. Dillon, Miss Lewis; Mr. O'Connell, Miss Weller; Mr. J. V. Hurd, Miss Sara Fownes; Mr. N. S. Hurd, Miss Mary Fownes; Mr. MacDonald, Miss Brown; Mr. Bennett, Miss Campbell; Mr. M. Frank Dillon, Miss Helmer; Mr. Durant, Miss Van Ostrand; Mr. Wells, Mrs. Taft; Mr. and Mrs. Farr; Mr. and Mrs. Kendall.
