REYNARD WINS ON LONG SUIT

Little River Offers Opportunity Which Pursued Makes the Most of

Reynard contributed an important part to a busy week for the fox hunters. A mile out, near Joe's Fork, his footprints were distinguished by the keen nosed pack, and mile after mile they trailed him as he sought one persimmon tree after another. In due time he was located, and a merry chase resulted with Nick's Creek and Little River as the destination point for a return trip which the pack checkmated in a swamp.

Once more the trail led to Little River where Reynard made the most of good country and finally swam the stream, taking advantage of the water to elude his persistent pursuers.

Merry music it was, and philosophically always the hunters regard "the fox who runs away lives to run another day."

A Pinehurst Valentine

The following is a "Valentine" sent Manager and Mrs. H. W. Priest of The Carolina by Hon. Alexander McGregor:

My Pinehurst, 'tis of thee
Sweet land of golfery,
Of bridge or "draw,"
Land where the tango goes,
Land where the high-ball flows,
Land where the high brow blows,
Of thee I caw.

My Pinehurst, 'tis of thee,
Fair land of liberty,
To come or go;
Land where the Priest must bless
Sinners or saints' excess;
If they are great or less,
Who needs to know?

Mr. and Mrs. McGregor's Guests

Miss Josephine Bleakie and Mr. P. S. Maclaughlin were dinner guests of Hon. and Mrs. Alexander McGregor at The Carolina Thursday evening.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Truesdell

Mr. and Mrs. James De Witt Clinton Rumsey and Mesdames John and Charles Smithers were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Truesdell at The Carolina.

FAMOUS OLD JACKSON SPRINGS

Trailing a Wounded Deer, an Indian Hunter Was Its Discoverer

Among numerous Jackson Springs legends is one which relates how an Indian hunter, trailing a wounded deer, found the quarry at the Springside. Doubtless, this was the first discovery of what has long been believed to be the fabled fountain of "perpetual youth" by many of its admirers.

At this time, more than a century ago, the Spring was hidden by bushes and the water, bubbling up through the boulder's cleft, in midstream, was soon discovered to bear no relation to that into which it flowed on either side. There are few springs in the world which possess this peculiar characteristic and, without question, this phenomena has contributed an important part to the water's fame.

Numerous parties have journeyed to the Jackson Springs Hotel during the week past for tea and luncheon, and for the coming week bookings include several bridge teas and an evening dance which the younger set have long had in mind.

The date of the Governor's coming has not been definitely fixed, but the event is anticipated with pleasure by Pinehurst visitors, many of whom will join in the evening and reception dance to be held in connection with it.

Rabbit Hunt Exciting Novelty

A rabbit hunt was an exciting novelty of the week, which the fox hounds keenly enjoyed by way of diversion. In less time than it takes to say "Jack Rabbit" four bunnies were on the move with portions of the pack in full pursuit. One chase ended in a log, another in a stump and two others were kills for the pack. A cross-country ride concluded the program. ¶ Enjoying the affair were Messrs. Page, Borden, Fisher, Cunningham, Pyle, Whiting, Whitcomb, Graham, Rogers, Hodge, Masters James Mundy and James Harris, Mesdames Fisher, Harriman, Brown, Coldwell, Hubbs, the Misses Cunningham, Balfe, Whiting, Baird and Abbe, and Mr. and Mrs. Twitty.

Their Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burns of Annapolis were dinner hosts in remembrance of their forty-first wedding anniversary at The Holly Inn on Monday; their guests: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burns, Jr., of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Young of New Rochelle, Mrs. R. H. Johnson and Miss Carolina Johnson of Hallowell. ¶ Dancing rounded out the evening with the Virginia Reel as an enjoyable novelty; the program opening with Mendelssohn's Wedding March which Mr. and Mrs. Burns led.

Kirshner Wins Trap-Shooting

R. C. Kirshner of Rochester was the winner of the weekly trap-shooting handicap in a tie shoot-off at ninety-three with C. H. Lay of Oil City, both shooting with an allowance of eight targets. ¶ Eighty-nine bunched Parker W. Whittemore of Brookline (8) and F. H. Cray of Canford (15) in second position. ¶ F. A. Hodgman of Yonkers, the scratch contestant, scored eighty-five.

WINCHESTER

RIFLES

AND SHOTGUNS

If you hunt big game there is no rifle so well adapted for your requirements as one of the various Winchester models. If you shoot birds or wild fowl a Winchester repeating shotgun will surely please you. There is this advantage in buying a Winchester gun, that is, its entire dependability. Some guns are made to sell. Winchesters are made to satisfy. That they do satisfy is shown by the fact that they are used by about two million shooters throughout the world. When buying remember

Of Known Reputation And Proved Superiority
