

THE PINEHURST OUTLOOK

VOL. XIX, NO. 5

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 1, 1916

FIVE CENTS

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CARTER

The Junior Metropolitan Champion Adds to his Booty

Attaches the Gold Medal in the Qualifying Round of the Annual Holiday Week Tournament

AS A general rule we have a big sigh of relief when the last OUTLOOK proof for the week has been corrected with our accustomed infallible accuracy, and we indulge in rejoicing when the rumble of the printing presses comes to our ears across the Village Green, but this week we wish we could have risked postponing publication. It would have given us a chance to see the Final Round of the Holiday Week Tournament and to say something about it in this issue. Next week the events of the New Year's Day will have been passed into history and earned a place among the Echoes from Antiquity with which Clyde Davis has been favoring us of late. But we can't risk it. The people of this Sovereign Nation are awaiting the appearance of the Outlook on its accustomed appearance day and all we can do is to risk a guess at the ultimate winner of the great tournament in the hope of being able to say next week that we told you so. On second thought we won't even do that. Editorial omniscience is all very well and very useful but there's no use rubbing it in. If we told you now who is going to win out (and more important still, win in) on Saturday we would be hurting the attendance at the links and depriving our readers of the pleasure of figuring out the result in advance on their own account.

We have read somewhere or other that there are Federal Laws aimed at monopolies and trusts. Possibly they do not extend to this section of North Carolina but it seems to us that something or other really ought to be done in the case of Philip Carter. He comes down here takes a look at Number One course, knocks the existing record of 75 to pieces and puts a new record in his pocket, in 73. A day or two later he finds a few idle minutes hanging heavily on his hands and appropriates another one, in 72—on Course Number Three this time. Then he walks off with the finals in the Annual St. Thomas Tennis Tournament, just by way of variety. That 73 on Course One has lost the charm of novelty by that time so he does the Course in 70—a record that bids fair to stand for a few days to come. And now, with the desire of accumulation mounting inordinately with possession, he has attached the Gold Medal in the Qualifying Round of the Annual Holiday Week Tournament. The authorities all agree that he had a hard fight on his hands to get it—but ultimate results are the things that seem to count most in this life and the concrete fact that calls for our gentle and ineffective protest is that Carter's got it. Tieing with his redoubtable opponent, H. V. Seggerman, of the Englewood Country Club, in the first qualifying round on Tuesday—41 out and 40 in as against Seggerman's 40 out and 41 in—he took a long breath (there being nothing else lying around loose to take at the moment) and of posterity, the printer's devil coldly informed us that we had only a few inches of space still at our disposal. We fill them with our apologies and a list of the players who qualified for the First Division. As follows:

Philip V. G. Carter	Nassau Country Club	41—40—81
H. V. Seggerman,	Englewood Country Club	41—40—81
C. H. Gardner,	Agawam Hunt	43—39—82
F. S. Danforth	North Fork	40—45—85
P. W. Whittemore	Brookline	42—45—87
G. M. Howard	Halifax	45—43—88
J. M. Thompson	Springhaven	44—45—89

A TYPICAL ANNIE OAKLEY 'STUNT'

landed the gold medal safely when the tie was played off Wednesday, finishing in 79 as against 83 for his opponent. As an anti-climax we will drag in the facts that Carter won his match on the morning of the same day, by 8 up and 7 to play, against J. M. Thompson, Springhaven. Also on Thursday, 7 up and 6 to play, against C. L. Becker, Woodland Golf Club.

There were 110 entries for the Holiday Tournament—the greatest field that Pinehurst has ever seen for this annual event.

With infinite care and our accustomed assiduity we compiled a complete list of the contestants with their respective scores from day to day; but just as we had congratulated ourselves on having achieved an accurate record of the first three days' play for the enlightenment of our readers and the benefit

John Bredemus	New York Golf Club	41—45—89
C. L. Becker	Woodland Golf Club	42—48—90
T. A. Kelley	Southern Pines	43—47—90
C. S. MacDonald	Lambton Country Club	44—48—92
T. B. Boyd	St. Louis Country Club	43—49—92
F. H. Gates	Hoffman	47—46—93
Rev. T. A. Cheatham	Pittsburgh	45—49—94
W. E. Truesdell	Fox Hills Golf Club	52—43—95
S. A. Hennessee	Cooperstown	46—49—95

CONCERT AT THE CAROLINA

A Noted Trio Sings in Pinehurst for the Benefit of the Farm Life School

THE greatest assemblage that has gathered at the Carolina this season greeted the appearance of Madame Lyska, Wassily Besekirsky and George Harris, Jr., on Wednesday evening. We have all been reading a good deal about these artists in the papers of late and expectation ran high; but the realization surpassed even the most sanguine anticipation. The Farm Life School, for the benefit of which the concert was arranged and given, is to be congratulated on the very substantial box-office receipts—at this writing the curtain has, metaphorically speaking, just descended, the final applause just died away, and the complete returns cannot be ascertained in time to include them in this apology for an appreciation, but we can safely say that there will be rejoicing at Eureka when the shekels have been counted. We, here in Pinehurst and for a long distance all around Pinehurst—for we did not have this good thing all to ourselves by any means—are to be congratulated on a rare treat, whose only drawback was that it was over all too early. The three artists are to be congratulated on having an audience that understands and appreciates good music and that was not backward in showing its appreciation. So, taking it altogether, we think everybody should be happy and satisfied.

The OUTLOOK, in its Christmas Number, gave a brief sketch of the career of Madame Lyska and of Wassily Besekirsky and printed a few selections taken at random from the numerous enthusiastic press notices that have recently appeared in the New York and Boston papers concerning these two artists. Our thanks are tendered to Mr. Roger Derby for having secured at the last moment the co-operation of Mr. George Harris, Jr., the American tenor, who has been touring with Madame Gadski and with Isadora Duncan and who is almost as well known in the Middle West and in California as he is in the musical circles of New York and the East. That little gem of Massenet's, 'Oh si les Fleurs' was sung by Mr. Harris with great delicacy and fine artistic
