

GOT THE BEST OF BOGEY

G. W. Statzell and J. H. Clapp Tied in Weekly Contest

Now came a glorious Monday and the Tin Whistle experts fared forth onto the green and drove into the offing in contest against Bogey. They played in two classes, with divers handicaps, striving for prizes provided for the occasion by J. G. Nicholson and W. L. Milliken. Now Clapp, the Chevy Chaser, with eight strokes to his credit, came in three to the good, to the great disappointment of George W. Statzell. For with twelve as a handicap the Aronimink champion likewise had three up. Close behind these was T. A. Cheatham, playing with nine, and ending two ahead. W. E. Truesdell and Stuyvesant LeRoy were the only others to beat the old colonel in his everlastingly consistent performance.

The second division went to R. C. Blanke from Montclair without discussion. He broke even, with a handicap of 28. And this is the true record of the order in which the champions came in:

Ask Anyone

to mention the most famous American plays and he will give without hesitation the names of three or four, two of which will inevitably be "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Hazel Kirke." It is significant that all the plays mentioned will be found to be based on American rural life—that they preach the uniform lesson of the beauty of paternal love, the importance of living a clean life and the unhappiness and ruin that results from doing evil.

"Hazel Kirke" has shown a phenomenal vitality which has endured for over thirty years.

In the original production were featured Charles W. Couldock and Effie Ellsler, who as the old miller and his daughter took the country by storm and played their parts for years.

In the screen version are Pearl White, Bruce McRae, William Riley Hatch and Creighton Hale.

At the Carolina Theatre, Wednesday, February 9th.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO

if you were taken out of a founding home by a man of culture and, through his untiring devotion and personal efforts, were developed into a highly educated, charming society belle, and if, when you had attained this enviable position, you were forced to choose between this man to whom you owed everything in the world except life itself and a dashing young army officer, which would you choose?

That is the dilemma which Marguerite Clark faces in the adaptation of Madeleine Lucette Ryley's celebrated romantic-comedy success, "Mice and Men," which is to be presented at the Carolina Theatre, Friday, February 11.

On the Preserve

We were glad participants of three quail dinners given this week by the successful sportsmen, and have had occasion to observe that there were many others. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Townsend of Boston have had Bud Wicker and the bird dogs busy every day this week. As always the arrival of Mr. James Foot at the Holly Inn has been the signal for the coveys to beware destruction. G. S. McCarthy and F. A. Seibert have headed the list of enthusiasts at the Carolina.

The best shooting recorded during the week has been just above West End at the Suck Old Field, where one party reported six coveys flushed in rapid succession. On Wednesday the party from the Harvard brought in seventeen after an evening's hunt, and reported that this represented only an small amateur proportion of the shots indulged in.

Pinehurst the Trysting Place

We learn from the Boston Transcript that the leading professional golfers in the country are plotting to assemble in force at Pinehurst on February 10th, to get into practice for the coming competitions. Wise men. We herald their advent with satisfaction, and extend a cordial welcome, and offer to wager they will find their hands full in their practice with certain amateurs hereabouts.

Among those expected to be here at that time at Tom Kerrigan, Walter C. Hagen, Patrick Doyle, R. G. MacDonald, Gilbert Nichols, Jack Hutchinson, M. J. Brady, George Bowden, T. L. McNamara, Carl Anderson, J. M. Barnes, Alex Smith, Alex Ross and Wilfrid Reid.

The Gorham Business

Started with forks and spoons

In fact, in the nomenclature of the table, Gorham Tableware is almost as well known as Irish Linen and French Cuisine.

There is in every fork and spoon we make, 85 years of cumulative experience to ensure the quality and enrich the design.

And speaking of designs, perhaps the only fault with the Gorham selections is that the variety is apt to embarrass the choice!

There are twenty-seven different and distinct patterns and each interprets some historical epoch or influence with the fidelity of a genuine affection.

But however the patterns and prices may vary in no-wise affects the quality of Gorham workmanship, which is best described as a habit of excellence which we will not overcome!

Leading jewelers everywhere sell Gorham Sterling Silverware and every piece bears this trade mark
