Wanamaker's Money

ersault, threw Hurd wide, rolling along the turf. By the time people had recovered from this spectacle and applauded the plucky rider, who recaptured his mount and dashed on off after the vanishing squadron, Tufts' new bald faced hunter, Lady Francis, jumped square into the fourth hurdle and landed Batchelor spinning on the ground. This left the George, with Whitlock up, to fight in out with Sam, ridden by J. Bachelor of Raleigh. For the second time that season the stead old George won the money.

Wanamaker Wins Again

The pick of four stables started in the 7/8 mile flat race for thoroughbreds. Hurd entered Kedron ridden by Whitlock, Smith rode Captain Heck for the Pinehurst Stables, Captain Welch sent in Kendeleu with Thomas up, and Rodman Wanamaker wore the Meadowbrook colors on Grath. It was breakneck the whole way, with Grath in the lead and Kedron second, Kendeleu third and Captain Heck fourth. They held this position as they flashed by the stand for the first time, and turned the last corner as if they had been placed to stay. But here Thomas came to an understanding with his animal and started something. He passed Kedron like a thunderbolt and fairly flew after the Meadowbrook mount. It was a fine spectacular rally, but lacked the final punch, Wanamaker passing under the wire two lengths to the good, in 1.35 1/4.

Mattie the Great, her broad light mane standing in breeze like Hector's plume came out this afternoon to challenge the too proud victories of the Walter C. Thomas had the Farm Boy and the determined little Toy in the game. But the whole combination were not enough to do the trick. Penny's horse took the first heat and the last. Mattie the Great landed the second in her old form and in the third from last position made the beginnings of a fine spurt at the fourth quarter which brought the stand to its feet and Penny's heart to his mouth. But she broke in the stretch and left it to the game little Toy to fight a losing fight for first place. The Farm Boy ran second in the first race but hardly figured in the others, due to a very bad start in each case.

Remus Snowball broke the record in the tree chopping contest. Reminiscent of the old lumbering days he fell upon the twenty-four inch stump and felled it clean in four minutes and six seconds.

BY HENRY VAN DYKE

(Professor Henry van Dyke of Princeton University, who has just retired from the post of United States Minister to Holland, and is here on his way home, contributes the following poem to The New York Times.)

You dare to say with perjured lips:
"We fight to make the ocean free"—
You whose black trail of butchered ships
Bestrews the bed of every sea
Where German submarines have wrought
Their horrors! Have you never thought
What you call freedom men call piracy?

Unnumbered ghosts that haunt the wave
Where you have murdered cry you down,
And seamen whom you would not save Weave now in weed-grown depths a crown
Of shame for your imperious head,
A dark memorial of the dead,
Women and children whom you left to drown.

Nay, not till thieves are set to guard
The gold, and corsairs called to keep O'er peaceful commerce watch and ward,
And wolves to herd the helpless sheep,
Shall men and women look to thee,
Thou ruthless Old Man of the Sea,
To safeguard law and freedom on the deep!
