

TIE GAME

(Concluded from page one)

These were H. C. Davis of Woodland, E. H. Wiswell, Montclair, T. A. Cheatham and Dr. M. W. Marr, all under the wire with 92. Unfortunately for the gang that turned out to see the sport when the four went forth to fight it out, Dr. Marr was forced by his other engagements to withdraw.

Dinner Parties

Mrs. James W. Tufts, Mrs. Leonard Tufts and Mrs. C. J. Jenks were guests of Mrs. F. F. Raymond at luncheon at the Carolina Saturday last.

Motoring from Southern Pines Mrs. Andrew J. Creamer, Mrs. F. D. Ostrander and Mr. Edwin Beach enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. E. G. Chandler, at dinner last Thursday at the Carolina.

Major and Mrs. G. G. Bogart entertained Miss Helen Spaulding and Miss Margaret Sewell at dinner at the Carolina last Friday evening.

Mrs. C. B. Hudson had as her guests at bridge and tea at the Club house, Mrs. Charles Smithers, Mrs. John Smithers and Mrs. Sanderson.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody gave another one of her popular luncheons at the Club house last Saturday. Among those present were, Mr and Mrs. Dickerson Bishop, Mr. Ireland, Mrs. Osborne, Miss Mary Healy, Miss Alice Ryan, Mrs. H. G. Waring and Miss Caroline Bogart.

The same afternoon Mrs. G. M. Howard entertained at tea Mrs. Mudgett and Mrs. Olmstead of Southern Pines, Mrs. H. G. Waring, Miss Caroline Bogart, Miss Lucy Priest and Mrs. Sherill.

Mrs. H. H. Splane then took command of the Club house that evening and had as her guests at dinner, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shaanon II and Dr. Myron W. Marr.

A well-known coon hunter of Leominster asserts that while coons usually hibernate during the winter months, he has had one as a pet for 12 years and he has never shown any tendency to do so. All sorts of experiments have been tried to induce him to go into this sleep, even to keeping food from him, but all efforts have been fruitless.

Feed our soldiers now or the Germans later.

Space and Dignity--

In direct contrast to the crowded discomfort of many restaurants, is the instant impression of space and dignity which greets you as you step through the majestic open door of the Mezzanine dining room.

The beauty of the decorations, the splendid music and the lofty proportions of the room make "good digestion wait upon appetite."

The Mezzanine dining room is the keynote of Hotel McAlpin atmosphere—space, dignity and unexcelled attention.
