

CLAPP'S CLIMAX

Adds Tin Whistle Prize to His Week's Trophies

R. C. Steese Also Shines in Monday Golf Tournament Against Par

HE DIDN'T BEAT par over Number 2, but he beat everything else in sight, including the veteran H. C. Fownes, of Pittsburg. We refer to the golfing man of the hour, our friend Jack Clapp, of Washington, D. C. Beside handling the whole assembly in battle array in the Autumn Tournament—a masterful account of which by our own special mythological expert will be found elsewhere—he took the celebrated Tin Whistle Club on the side, and trimmed them into the bargain.

STEESE LEADS THE BUSH LEAGUE

Clapp's score of 3 down was duplicated in Class B by K. C. Steese, of Youngstown, who incidentally was playing first division golf in the Annual Autumn show then going on. He squeezed H. T. McClearn, of the Norfolk Golf Club, operating with a handicap of 40, out of the place by just one hole. THE SUMMARY—Handicap Match Play Against Par—No. 2 Course:

PINEHURST is, to be brief, the most complete and perfectly equipped Fall, Winter and Spring Resort in the world; an ideal Village created by the late James W. Tufts. Possessing exceptional opportunities for outdoor life, it also offers right conditions for living in every sense of the words; its unsurpassed location in the far famed long-leaf pine thermal belt or Sand Hill region, responsible for a winter climate generally acknowledged to possess few equals in the rare purity of its air, and the subtle tonic of its sunshine.

As the winter Golf centre of the two hemispheres, Pinehurst is now thoroughly established, its unequalled equipment embracing three distinct six-thousand-yard eighteen-hole courses and an additional nine-hole course. Perfectly maintained and laid out in accordance with modern standards, they rank with the world-famous courses, and the special holes are "quoted" wherever the game is known. Here are held annually four contests of international importance beginning with the Midwinter tournament in January, and concluding with the United North and South Amateur Championship in April. A fireproof locker room, shower baths and observation and lunch rooms, add to the attractions of the conveniently located Country Club house.

Closely seconding Golf in importance, are Trap Shooting and Tennis, the annual Mid-winter Handicap and Tennis Championship held annually in January, classic events which attract the country's best, a significant indication of the excellence of the superb equipment for these sports. As the Hub of Southern good roads, the Village offers special attractions to motorists and those who ride and drive; the Livery is of the best and the Garage the largest in the state. Auto service runs between the Country Club, Station and various points in the Village.

Forty thousand acres are maintained as Shooting Preserves for Village guests with good quail and dove shooting and an occasional turkey or woodcock. In connection are Kennels of high excellence and equipment necessary to meet the demands of the most exacting sportsmen. Rifle and pistol shooting, polo, fox hunting, equestrian sports, baseball, billiards and pool, are among the attractions which combine happily with social pleasures. The hotel orchestras are of high standard and dancing is enjoyed by the entire colony.

The Hotels, four in number, include The Carolina, the largest in the state and one of the best appointed in the south, which with its new seventy-room addition, provides for over five hundred guests in accordance with the high standard of modern requirements. The Holly Inn, accommodating two hundred guests, enjoys general popularity, while The Berkshire and Harvard, caring for one hundred guests, are suited to those desiring a more moderate rate. The Pine Crest Inn and Lexington are the smaller houses. In addition to twenty attractive family cottages, well furnished and provided with modern conveniences, are a rapidly increasing number of private homes; evidence of the permanent place the Village holds in the affections of its admirers.

Various utility plants, a Dairy, Creamery and Market Garden, models of excellence and the only plants maintained on the same large scale for a similar purpose, play an important part in supplying the needs of the Village in the way of milk, cream and vegetables. There are also a department store, pharmacy, meat market, jewelry store, novelty shop, photographic studio, chapel, schools, library, central power plant furnishing electric light and steam heat, laundry, refrigerating plant, general office, post, telegraph and telephone offices, railway station, resident physician, resident minister, abundant pure water supply, and sanitary sewerage system. In fact, the Village supplies every modern need offering unequalled and diversified attractions for people of refinement at a wide range of price. CONSUMPTIVES ARE EXCLUDED.

Pinehurst is seventeen hours from New York and through Pullmans run throughout the season direct to the Village over the Seaboard Air Line Railroad. The western service is excellent. Stopover privileges are granted to tourists going either north or south.

REMINISCENT OF THE BERKSHIRE CONGRESS

The contest was played over Number 2 in two classes, against par, as I have said. R. C. Shannon, 2d, was listed as low man on the handicap list, leaving Clapp and H. C. Fownes, C. B. Fownes and C. L. Becker to fight it out with an allowance of 8 each. I say left them to fight it out because, although there was a galaxy of 15 stars in the lineup of Class A, these low handicap men, as usual, crowded to the top.

Clapp, this being his banner week, won 3 down on par. But in many respects the most extraordinary performance is credited to H. C. Fownes, for he had just come in and had no practice, and not even a chance to become familiar with the landscape or the feel of the roll on the sand. Still he hit out an 83, the best actual medal of the day, and only fortuitous circumstance placed those strokes in such wise that in match against par he was one more down than the Chevy Chaser.

W. F. Wells held third place, in tie with Harry Waring, both being five down.

An Egotist

"Father," asked the small boy, "what is an egotist?"
 "An egotist, my son, is a man who has the impudence to think he knows more than you do, instead of giving you credit for knowing more than he does."
