Famous Melodrama at the Carolina Theatre

The famous Drury Lane Melodrama "Sporting Life," produced by Maurice Teurnour, the director known the world over for the production of the Whip and the Bluebird, will appear at the Carolina Theatre Monday night, January 27th, at 8.15. Picquet laments that people don't know what it is. He is surprised and pained. For this is a new scoop. It is one of the sensations of the hour. It is a masterpiece. Might as well ask what Macbeth or Zaza is. Why it is better known by any follower of the dramatic art than the Old Homestead. It runs the famous scene at the Derby, and is a correct picture of all that is dramatic in the Old World race courses and English Sporting Life.

COMING DOWN

Stearns Makes a Season Record

J. N. Stearns, 3rd, of the Nassau Country Club, established a new standard of play for the NEW ERA and brought the 1919 record on the Pinehurst links back down to its usual vanishing point last Tuesday. Playing with Bard and Dixon and Fotheringham on Tuesday last, January 22d, he cracked out a clean 70 over Number 2, which is one under par. As a matter of fact, he was going so strong that at the end of the fourth he was three under par, and lost that lead over the impossible only on the easy and short 8th and 9th. This left him 1 up on the par medal at the turn. He came back exactly on schedule in 35.

The Card:

Out 4 4 3 3 5 3 5 4 4—35
In 4 5 4 4 4 3 4 3 4—35 70

Sandy Waldron

A poem or a memorial should be written to Sandy Waldron. In four short months since his advent on the planet he has made a name for himself, and become the heart and centre of that important and fascinating pastime of catching the harmful and unnecessary rats of the commune. He is the acknowledged peer of any Airdale of any age whatever, and the darling of watertrough square.

STIMSON AT HOLLY INN

Hostly Scene of Quail Supper With Near Champion

Notable among the assembling guests at the Holly Inn this week are Colonel and Mrs. Henry L. Stimson. Colonel Stimson, who was Secretary of War under Roosevelt, volunteered at the outbreak of war and was for a time in command of artillery in action on the Western front.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Beers and H. Edward H. Morse of Hartford celebrated a record breaking hunting trip by a dinner of quail given with Mr. and Mrs. W. Stingles and Oscar Hedstrom, from the Pine Crest Inn, as guests of honor. The festivities were in full accord with the new era inaugurated by the Constitutional amendment, and toasts were celebrated in Near Champagne, the "Golden Star," the Sweet Valley Wine Company's masterful camouflage. The party was also attended by George Chapman and Ernest Watkins.
