GOVERNOR BICKETT AT THE FAIR

The attendance at the Sandhill Fair reached phenomenal and unprecedented proportions. It is estimated that on the second day of the Fair there were more people on the grounds than the State Fair at Raleigh could boast of having on any one day. Picquet and his lieutenants outdid themselves.

Governor Bickett proved to be the "prominent citizen" scheduled to address the crowd. He was introduced by Hon. Robt. E. Page and in a brief address delighted his audience as well by his sincere eloquence as by his amusing anecdotes and high compliments to Moore County. The Governor reviewed our returned soldiers and sailors in parade.

The racing programs the first two days were top-notch programs. Athletic contests between the Pinehurst School and the Sandhill Farm Life School were held between the races. On points the two schools were tied.

A sensational exhibition of fancy flying by officers from Camp Bragg thrilled the initiated and the blase. The saddle horse exhibition was won by Lou Donald, owned and shown by J. O. Penny of Greensboro. Mrs. Donald Parsen's Tatters took second place.

To the young boys who attended the Fair, Annie Oakley's shooting was the climax of a thrilling day. Young boydom, mouth agape, marvelled at every shot of our celebrated markswoman who easily put their popular idol, Dick Dead-eye, in the shade.

The Berkshire Hog Congress was held at the Carolina Theatre and papers read by Mr. Page, Ruohs Pyron, President of the Southern Berkshire Assn.; L. E. Frost, Editor of the Berkshire World and by W. J. Vaughn of Cartersville, Ga. The hog sale brought fifty-five perfect Berkshires into the ring. These sold for a total of $6,660. The awards in the show ring were gathered in with monotonous regularity by Zed L. Williams, of Columbia, S. C. He had nine firsts to his credit. The celebrated Hood Farm of Lowell, Mass., captured five blues.

PLAYING THE PREACHER I'll play you level around the course. A

By Edgar A. Guest

"You must," the good wife said to me, "devote one pleasant day.

Unto our new-come minister. At golf he likes to play!

And so, obedient to her wish, I sought the goodly man

And asked him would he like to shoot the ball into the can.

"Aye, that I would," he, smiling, said. "I think the game sublime."

So I prepared that afternoon to have a rotten time.

I'd never played with ministers; it did not seem to me

That one could preach the Word of God and still a golfer be.

Yet when he changed his clericals for garments less refined,

No golfer on the course would know he hooked his vest behind.

"What odds shall I bestow?" I asked. He answered, "None at all.

I'll play you level around the course. A ball, a ball, a ball!"

Now that it true-born golfers' speech. It startled me a bit.

Thought I, "The parson knows the game. Perhaps the Church can hit!"

And when I saw him make a swing and then observed his smile,

I whispered low to Alex Ross: "The dominie has style!"

Then as his first drive left the tee I further said it looked

As tho for three good dollar balls the the clergy had me hooked.

He hit 'em far and straight and true, he putted like a fiend,

He smote the pill with all his might, and into it he leaned;

He kept the honor all the way; and at the final cup,

I paid him three good dollar balls, for he was seven up.

"My friend," said I, "you have a style for which all golfers search.

If I thought I could play like you, I'd gladly go to Church."

REAL ESTATE ITEMS

The office of A. S. Newcomb & Company is always a busy place. They never have a dull season. All summer long they write deeds by the yard, leases by the score, and transfer and insure everything transferable and insurable in Moore County. In the course of a year the real estate exchanged in the neighborhood reaches astonishing proportions, and when you stop to think that less than twenty years ago all this land appeared to serve no further purpose in the divine plan than to hold the world together, the development causes you to rub your eyes and wonder how these things can be.

It took Mrs. Leo F. F. Wanner just about ten minutes to decide that the Little Brick House was the place for her and she snapped it up quick. The Wanners are a welcome addition to the colony. Mrs. Wanner knows more about dogs than any woman in Pinehurst, and her enthusiasm for our little four footed friends spells great success for the forthcoming Dog Show, held annually under the auspices of the Kennel Club.

Mr. Dickinson Bishop has sold his charming little cottage to Mr. Jay Hall who, likewise, is a well known figure in Pinehurst's sporting circles.

The Robert Hunter Cottage, known again as the Mystic has passed into the hands of Mrs. C. L. B. Metcalf-Keating. This adds to Mrs. Keatings, already extensive holdings in Pinehurst. The Keatings have also bought a peach orchard near Pinehurst, but we are going to tell more about that later.

The Sycamore has been sold by Mr. S. J. Stutts to Mrs. Florence Butterworth and the Pinecrest Inn has purchased from the G. A. Poor Estate a cottage in the rear of the Inn and it is now being used to accommodate an overflow of guests.

Mr. W. G. Stutzell has sold the Ivy to Mr. Harrison Stutts, who has leased the house to Mr. T. B. Boyd, of St. Louis.

Real estate deals are not usually closed up until the last of March, but as a result of the unusual activity, six lots with houses have already been sold by Mr. Newcomb.
