

The Week in Pinehurst

Quinton Preece, Pinehurst's Youngest Polo Player

Mr. J. A. Tuckerman, of Boston, in action on the Polo Field of the Sand Hill Club

MR. AND MRS. W. A. MAGOON, of Detroit, Michigan, are here to spend a few weeks visiting Mr. Magoon's brother, Mr. G. A. Magoon, at the latter's cottage, Beausoleil.

THE NEWLY ORGANIZED Pinehurst Forum bids fair to become one of the popular adjuncts of colony life. The members have introduced the custom of gathering at the Country Club on Sunday evening for an informal supper, which is followed by discussions and speeches by prominent men.

The last meeting held on Sunday, February 8th, was opened by an informal address by Mr. Lawrence Abbott of the "Outlook," who was introduced by Mr. Homer H. Johnson. Mr. Abbott discussed very impressively the peculiarly American qualities of his friend Theodore Roosevelt—his caution and preparedness, his moral courage, his sense of humor, which Mr. Abbott identified with common sense, and his gentleness.

The second speaker of the evening was Mr. Benjamin F. Butler, of Eagle Springs, who talked of Mexico. Mr. Butler was for some time a resident of the southern republic, and as an eye witness of the fall of the Diaz government, the Madero revolution, and the rise of Huerta, could speak with knowledge of the existing problems. The speaker severely scored the failure of the American Government to take steps toward the improvement of present conditions and expressed the belief that an armed intervention is inevitable. The meeting was attended by about 60 members of the Colony.

MISS JEANETTE WIGGINS, daughter of Mrs. Russell Wiggins, celebrated her fifth birthday at the Club, Tuesday afternoon, with a little party for six.

MRS. GEORGE STATZELL, of Philadelphia, is entertaining as visitors her niece Mrs. M. M. Tenzler and also her little granddaughter, Miss Adele Tenzler. The visitors will remain in Pinehurst for a few weeks.

MR. AND MRS. A. P. DE FORREST ALLGOOD, of New York City, who arrived two weeks ago on their honeymoon, have gone to the beaches of Florida for a few weeks, from whence they will return to their home in New York at 130 E 67th Street. Mrs. Allgood was Miss Laurie E. Smith, daughter of General and Mrs. Robert C. Smith.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY W. MOORE, the young couple from Brockport, N. Y., who are stopping at The Carolina, will leave for home the latter part of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will be greatly missed not only on the links, where they have been daily visitors, but also at the Club Grill, where their dancing has elicited many an "aren't they graceful?"

MISS KATHERINE KOLB, of Philadelphia, is here to spend a few days. Miss Kolb is one of the best of women horse riders here. She is also a dancer par excellence.

HUNTING PARTIES under the supervision of Mrs. Spencer are becoming very much in vogue. Despite the threatening rain on Thursday morning a party of eight, which included Mrs. Spencer, Miss O'Rourke, Miss Houck, Mr. Cameron, Mr. Yipp, Mr. Holbrook, Mr. Trotter and Mr. Coffee, as the huntsman. The party set out at 7 o'clock in the morning to return at 11:30, without the fox, to the sorrow of many. The first place to be reached by the riders was Allen's Grove, but finding nothing in particular to attract their attention there, they proceeded to Chandler's Pond and to Thaggard's Grove. After a lunch they returned to the Carolina. The riders struck the trail of a fox, much to their joy; but, owing to the inexperience of the hounds, were not able to follow up their quarry.

LIEUT. MITCHELL is kept very busy these days. So many people want to fly that he is compelled to make at least ten flights a day. Among those who have taken trips with Lt. Mitchell during the past week are Mr. C. H. Levy, of Oil City, Pa.; Dr. W. W. Vanderhoof, of Watkins, N. Y.; Mr. A. W. Lawrence, of New York City; Mrs. F. M. Weld, of New York City; Mr. E. G.

Spa'z, of Albany, N. Y.; Mr. J. W. Southern, of Albany, N. Y.; Mr. M. Blue, Carthage N. C.; Mr. R. K. Runton, of Arlington, Mass.; Mr. Lester Woodward, New York City; Miss Marion Atkinson, Aberdeen, N. C.; Mrs. Lee R. Page, of Aberdeen, N. C.; Mr. P. L. Bar on, Boston, Mass.; Mr. Herbert Foster Hewitt, L. I.; Mr. T. C. Shotwell, New York City; Mr. J. R. Page, Aberdeen, N. C.; Mr. F. T. Walker, New York City and Miss Julia Price, of Jefferson City, Mo.

MISS ELEANOR T. CHANDLER, the prominent Philadelphia golfer, is in our midst again. On Monday she won the Medal for the lowest score and Friday won the finals of the St. Vaneltine Tournament for Women, after a close match with Mrs. Armstrong. Miss Chandler displayed remarkable courage and grit in this match and well deserves the cup.

MRS. L. F. F. WANNER has yet to be beaten on the track. Her horses, as well as her dogs, are creating a sensation here at the present moment. Her champion shepherd dog, Artis-Mercedes was adjudged best of the breed out of 118 dogs at the Grand Central Palace Dog Show in New York last week.

MR. AND MRS. T. B. BOYD entertained Mr. and Mrs. Rumsey and Miss Lord at dinner at the Holly Inn on Tuesday evening.
