Country Club Notes

By Jack Twiss

*There was an old duffer named Rice,
Who tried to forget how to slice.
As a last resort a lesson he took,
And now his drives have a terrible hook.*

IRVING S. ROBESON, of Rochester, N. Y., winner of the North & South Championship in 1918, arrived at Pinehurst last week, fresh from a sojourn at Bell-air, and Palm Beach, and immediately proceeded to show his wares by winning the Championship of the Tin Whistle aggregation over several of the favorites. Parker W. Whittemore, champion of last year stepped aside this year and let his less illustrious brother fight it out, as he has been showing such a fine game of late it was a foregone conclusion that he would repeat this year.

Robeson trailed Donald Parson, of Youngstown, in the first day's play, as Parson was around in 80, as compared with an 83 by the new title holder. The second round found Robeson leading the field by four strokes with a fine 79 on No. 2 Course. The final round on No. 1 Course was productive of some fine golf by both Robeson and Parson. At the turn Parson had cut Robeson's lead of four strokes to one as he had a 39 compared with a 42 by the latter. Robeson went wild, however, coming home and scored a 35, two shots better than Parson's inward score. Robeson had a total of 239 and Parson 242 for the fifty-four holes of play. F. S. Danforth, North Fork, was next in line with a total of 248, followed by C. L. Becker, Philadelphia, N. Y., who had a total of 251.

The prize for the best gross round was won by Danforth, while G. E. Barber, New Haven, and H. H. Rackham, Detroit, tied for the best net round.

Francis Ouimet arrived in Pinehurst on Saturday to get in shape for the North and South Championship. Francis is slightly underweight, but should be in fine trim for the Open. It is regretted that Ouimet will not journey to England the coming summer to participate in the British Championships, as he is without doubt the best amateur golfer that Uncle Sam can boast of and one who would come pretty near bringing home a few of the coveted titles from the British shores.

The Women's North & South Championship this week gives promise of being of nation-wide interest, as the entry list includes practically every lady star east of the Mississippi.

Several of the professional stars are drifting into Pinehurst preparatory to the Open Championship on the 29th. Those of them who saw Mike Brady's sensational exhibition at St. Augustine, Florida, when he made golf history recently, say it was the most wonderful round of golf ever played in this country. Brady had a 65 for the round which enabled him to capture the Professional tournament there after being in third place in the first day's play.

Pinehurst will be strongly represented in both the Open Championship and the North and South Amateur events this year. Alec Ross and Parker Whittemore will stand lots of beating, Ross in the Open and Whittemore in the Amateur.
