

The Week in Pinehurst

THE EVENT OF THE WEEK, of course, is the Annual North and South Tennis Tournament, which is still in progress from last week. As we go to press, the finals are being played and we therefore reserve for next week a detailed account of the tournament.

Tilden is looked upon to come through in the men's singles and Miss Marion Zinderstein is the favorite in the women's singles. Tilden will have to reckon with Throckmorton and Voshell, and the most dangerous opponent for Miss Zinderstein will be Miss Edith Sigourney, runner-up for the National Indoors Title.

Among the men that have advanced to the third round are William Tilden, 2nd, who won the event last year; S. Howard Voshell, of New York, Metropolitan Champion; Samuel Hardy, the California veteran, and Harold Throckmorton, the New York State titleholder.

Without exception the contenders scored in straight sets. Throckmorton was harder pressed than any of the rest in his first round match, in which H. W. Ballou, after a slow start in the first set, carried the New Jersey youth to fourteen games in the second division of play. The score ended 6-1, 8-6, in Throckmorton's favor, but Ballou was within a stroke of victory.

Tilden after moving into the second round through the medium of a default faced K. Simmons late in the day and dropped only one game in each set to his rival. The champion dazzled the gallery with his remarkable speed, hard hitting and stroke assortment, and except for a little carelessness might have scored two love games just as easily.

The failure of Vincent Richards and Ichiya Kumagai to take the courts caused some disappointment. The Yonkers youth had to remain out of the singles event owing to an injury to his hand, and the Japanese, who was a finalist a year ago, decided not to participate because of lack of practice.

But the stars among the women shine bright and there is notable entry in the event, with such names as Marion Zinderstein, Helen Gilleau, Edith Sigourney, Leslie Bancroft, Florence Ballin, Katherine Force, Phyllis Walsh and Mrs. De Forest Candee heading the list.

The tennis players conducted a golf tournament among themselves last Sunday and it was revealed that some of them can play golf as well as tennis, though we have heard none of them bragging about their scores. About twenty men and a dozen women teed off, and the Briggs family gathered in all the honors. Mr. Briggs, of the Pelham Manor Country Club, filed a score of 49-41-90 and Mrs. Briggs vanquished the ladies with a round of 102. S. Howard Voshell furnished the closest round to that of Briggs. At the 17th tee he was even with Briggs, but coming up to the 18th he ruined his score by a tremendous forehand drive into the workshop of the Country Club and expended a half a dozen strokes trying to get out. His score was 94. Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., finished third a 95. He was followed by R. L. Baggs, 97; H. C. Wick, Jr., 100; Richard Rouse, 100; F. C. Baggs, 100; A. M. Morris, 101; Fred Hawthorne, 102; F. A. Otis, 104; C. S. Bryan, 106; Kenneth Simmons, 108; Norman Johnson, 113; R. W. Seabury, 116. Mrs. Briggs was the only one to turn in a card among the women.

On Wednesday of this Week the legions of the visiting Electrical Manufacturers' Club took over the right of way on Course Number Three and began a neat little tourney of their own. We go to press too early to give a summary of the scores; it is rumored in some quarters that when they are made public next week Pinehurst will receive a shock. Among those competing are M. E. Barker, W. F. Field, H. T. Dyette, Le Roy Clark, J. C. Belden, S. B. Belden, M. D. Jeffrey, C. C. Chesney, M. A. Oudin, W. G. Carr, S. B. Condit, L. W. Downs, J. S. Crider, Edwin Tower, Jr., F. L. Pierce, C. F. Patterson, J. A. Smith, D. R. Bullen, J. E. Way, Conrad Hubert, A. W. Clark, R. E. Gallard, H. E. Hackenberg, B. E. Saulsbury, C. W. Stone, C. H. Wilcox, A. D. Page, Walter Cary, L. W. Downes, and J. H. Mason.

On Tuesday the 13th, with a record-breaking field of ninety entries, the Annual Mid-April Golf Tournament began its qualifying round over Course Number Two. A winner of the medal turned up in F. H. Gates, the Moore County expert; he turned in a score of 74. Gates was followed by C. B. Fownes of Pittsburgh, who trailed four strokes behind, with a score of 78. Third place was a tie at 80 between J. D. Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., and Harold Weber of the Sylvania Club. Match play began on Wednesday with five divisions of sixteen.

The final golf affair of the Tin Whistles was held last Friday. It was a handicap affair and sixty-five members of the organization took part. It was won by A. C. Judd of Waterbury, Conn., with a round of 96-28, 68. The was followed by Mrs. Corlett and Mrs. Ralph Hornblower, scoring 123 and 119 respectively.

Mrs. W. S. Butterfield of Battle Creek, Mich., was the soloist at a very charming little musicale given last week at the Carolina Hotel for the benefit of the new Roman Catholic Church now being constructed in Pinehurst. Assisting here were three young French girls, Pauline, Leonelle, and Beatrice Sainte Marie, who rendered vocal selections in French. Guests at the large hotel responded liberally to the appeal for funds.

An interesting party of young people motored down from Raleigh and stopped at the Holly Inn last Friday for the week end. The party included Miss Kitchen, daughter of the Senator from North Carolina, Miss Saldler of Baltimore, Miss Hackney of Wilson, N. C., Mrs. C. A. Dillon and Mrs. McDonald, both of Raleigh, Mr. N. E. Edgerton of Raleigh, Mr. N. D. Peirson of Enfield, N. C. and Mr. C. O. Butler of Wilmington, N. C.

The Silver Foils closed their golfing season Friday with a match against bogey in two classes. Mrs. C. A. Magoon with a handicap of 17, won in Class A with 3 up. In Class B there was a tie at 3 up, between Mrs. A. M. Reed (24) of Manchester, Vt., and Mrs. E. W. Alexander (19) of Santa Barbara, Cal. The Special Prize for the best score against bogey without handicap was won by Mrs. C. B. Hollingsworth of Greenburg, with two down.

Last Saturday Mr. D. T. Hood entertained a party of ten at dinner at the Country Club Grill.

Senator Frederick Nichols is expected to arrive at the Carolina this week.

Captain Roberts, who hails from Drygrange, Melrose, Roxburghshire, near the home of Sir Walter Scott, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ross. Captain Roberts is a veteran of the World War and comes from a very distinguished family.

Last week's Putting Contest for women on the clock greens at the Club House was won by Mrs. H. C. Philbrick of Brae Burn, with a score of 23 for the twelve holes. For second place there was a triple tie between Miss Carolyn Bogart, Mrs. A. S. Higgins and Mrs. W. B. Merrill.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow gave a dinner party for eight at the Carolina.

Among the many guests coming North from Florida are Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wentworth, who are at the Holly Inn. They have been at the Alcazar in St. Augustine all winter. They are accompanied by Miss Meates.

other leaders were W. B. Merrill, 89-18, 71; W. T. Stall of Brockton, 87-14, 73, and L. A. Hamilton of Garden City, 79-6, 73. Mr. A. S. Higgins went down in one on the ninth.

The visiting tennis stars were tendered a dinner at the Country Club on the 9th. There were about sixty present and from all reports the party was a very lively affair. Dancing followed the dinner. The singing of Fred Otis was of the high spots of the evening.

Mrs. W. B. Merrill was winner of First Prize at last week's rifle contest for women at the Gun Club, with a record of 138 out of a possible 150. She
