Country Club Annuals

Golfers returning to Pinehurst this season will find the Country Club shining spick and span in trimmings of pleasing green, and the same cheery interior which has formed a gathering place for good fellowship for so many years. Donald Ross, of course, will again be at the helm, and, with a coterie of capable assistants, everything is in readiness to take care in fine shape of what promises to be record breaking crowds. Last season the number of players using the links was greater than during any previous year, and from present indications that number will be exceeded this season. Any possibility of crowding, however, has been eliminated by the fact that the new number four course has been completed and is in the best of condition and in all probability will be as popular as any of the other courses. This gives Pinehurst four 18 hole courses—13 miles of golf links. The greens and fairways have received careful attention during the summer and fall, and are now in the pink of condition. Another welcomed improvement is the rearrangement of the Southern Pines road which formerly passed directly in front of the Club House. It has been rearranged so as to extend along the railroad tracks to the race track, thence across to the intersection of the Aberdeen road. This will eliminate danger hazards and interference to golfers playing number one and number two courses. John Fitzgerald will be on hand at the Grill with a competent chef and staff which will insure the success of a luncheon or dinner party at any time. The attaches at the club remain about the same. An innovation by way of another tournament has been added to the already long list of regular scheduled events. This is the "Fall Amateur and Professional Best Ball" which is scheduled to immediately precede the Annual Autumn Tournament and is set for November 20-22. It is to be 72-holes, Medal Play, and carries with it five monies for professionals: 1st, $500.00, 2nd, $300, 3rd, $200, 4th, $100, 5th, $75. Amateurs to receive sterling trophy. The season's program of regular scheduled events is as follows:

NOVEMBER 10, 11, 12, 13—FIFTH ANNUAL CAROLINA TOURNAMENT. Two or more eights to qualify. Sterling trophies for best qualifying score and for winner and runner-up in each eight. Special trophies for additional divisions.

NOVEMBER 20, 22—FALL AMATEUR AND PROFESSIONAL BEST BALL TOURNAMENT. Amateurs and professionals must arrange their own partners, not necessarily from same club. The event will be 72 holes—Medal Play, the best ball of each pair to count; 36 holes November 20th and 36 holes November 22nd. Professional prizes to be cash: 1st prize, $500; 2nd, $300; 3rd, $200; 4th, $100; 5th, $75. Amateur prizes, sterling trophies. Winning pair entering from same club will be given special trophy in form of a tablet, to be held by club represented by winners for one year. When trophy is won three times by any pair representing a club, the club will take permanent possession. Those wishing to enter should notify the Pinehurst Club at least 3 days before tournament.
