

The Week in Pinehurst

On the Lumbee River near Pinehurst

Former Governor James F. Fielder of New Jersey, and Mrs. Fielder are at the Carolina.

* * *

Prominent among recent guests at the Carolina was Governor Thomas W. Bickett of North Carolina, who spent several days there during the week past.

* * *

Miss Janet Johnson entertained a number of her young friends at tea and dancing at the Country Club on Thursday afternoon last.

* * *

Mr. Carl Fayen entertained a party of twenty-one of the younger set at tea and dancing at the Country Club on Saturday afternoon.

* * *

Mr. R. M. Purves, Secretary of the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests, has arrived at Pinehurst to arrange for the annual frolic of that body, which will open at the Country Club on January 8 and continue throughout the week.

* * *

Supreme Court Justice Edward Ridley Finch and Mr. Elihu Root, Jr., won three matches out of five from Justice John M. Tierney and Mr. Thomas W. Churchill in the Republican-Democratic tourney held last week. As the victors are Republicans the three wins were credited to the G. O. P.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. F. Wanner gave a dinner-dance at the Club on New Year's Eve. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wanner, Mr. and Mrs. Jay V. Hall, Mrs. Mary Barnum, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. B. Close, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Page, Messrs. E. C. Beall, Ralph W. Page and J. W. Souther.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. S. Chase, whose wedding took place in Holyoke, Mass. on December 27, are spending their honeymoon at Fernleigh, the winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Houston, at Pinehurst. The bride was Miss Vera Houston and is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Houston.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Collins, Miss Sally Peters, Miss Betty Thompson and Messrs. Walter Blackington, Francis Harrison and Edwin Beckwith were members of a riding party that rode out some ten miles on Wednesday last to the beautiful pine grove known as the Isle of a Thousand Pines.

* * *

Miss Sarah Wiley was hostess to a party of young folks from Pinehurst and Southern Pines at a dinner given at the Highland Pines Inn last Saturday evening. Miss Dorothy Dunlap, Miss Mary Jordon, Messrs. Albert Tufts, Charles P. Mason, Irving Johnson, J. V. Healey were guests from Pinehurst. Mrs. Wiley, Miss Ruth Goldsmith, Miss Marjorie Watson, Miss Edith Edwards, Mr. Robert Goldsmith from Southern Pines, and Miss Ellen Meurice and Mr. Stewart Meurice from Eagle Springs.

* * *

On Tuesday last a large party rode out to the quaint old-fashioned mill at the McKenzie Place. The mill is an old building with historical associations and with an ancient grindstone, supposed to date back 200 years. The riders included Mrs. Frederick J. Thieme and Miss Martha Thieme, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Collins, Mrs. Evelyn P. Spencer, the Misses Isabel Beckwith, Sue and Frances Carns, Edith Frost, Sally Peters, Elizabeth Thompson, Dorothy Daggett and Jeanette Bissell, and Messrs. A. W. Jarvis and Edwin Beckwith.

A field of about twenty riders started out after the hounds on the early morning of Thursday last. The dogs gave voice within twenty minutes of the start and after a hard run of several hours Brer' Fox was overhauled and took refuge in the upper branches of a tree, whence he was brought down by Lieut. W. H. Clark. Those who were in the party were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hunnerman, the Misses Martha and Lida Leonard, Margaret Thieme, Sally Peters, Katherine Carns, Mrs. Evelyn P. Spencer, Lieutenant W. H. Clark, Messrs. Edwin Beckwith, Lester Collins, Phillip Johnson, Russell Tracy, Jr., Francis Harrison, and Justice Edward Ridley Finch.

* * *

The Carolina ball room was the scene of a merry time last Wednesday evening when the Juniors held forth and declared the evening as their own, and from hotels and cottages, town and plantation, the casual observer found a grand assembly awaiting the word from Wiley Pope Swift that the dance was on. A myriad of balloons, miniature banjos, paper hats and fans of all shapes and descriptions, and rosettes of many hues were distributed by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clare Boustead, under whose supervision the affair was most successfully arranged and conducted. A new form of Lucky Number contest met with great approval, chief laurels and the handsome prizes contributed by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. H. Fayen being awarded to Miss Elizabeth Marr and Mr. Boustead.

* * *

Air flights at Pinehurst are growing more and more popular each week as is indicated by the large list of passengers carried by Lieutenant Clark during the week past. Among those who enjoyed the thrills of this fascinating pastime were Mrs. S. C. Borg, Miss Dorothy Borg, Mrs. A. L. Carns, the Misses Kate, Susie and Nancy Carns, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Parker, Mrs. Evelyn P. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Crocker, Mrs. R. E. Sproule, Mrs. Charles W. Picquet, Mr. J. C. Thomas, Mr. Silver, Mr. H. B. Swoope, Jr., Miss Edith Frost, Mr. C. T. Richards, Sr., and Mr. C. T. Richards, Jr.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tufts entertained a large number of the younger set at a dinner party at the Country Club on New Year's Eve in honor of the young people who are visiting Pinehurst for the holidays. After dinner the party attended the Theatre and later adjourned to the Carolina where dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Those present were the Misses Katherine Ormsbee, Jeannette Johnson, Ann Merrill, Ellen Maurice, Elizabeth Cheatham, Theo Johnson, Frances Thomas, Clarissa Metcalf, Josephine Richards, Ruth Sheppard, Mary Jordan, Virginia Burrage, Frances Ward, Martha Thieme, Mary Messmore, Sara Wiley, Elizabeth Thompson, Sally Peters, Betty Close, Isabelle Beckwith, Louise Emery, Edith Frost, and Messrs. James Ward, A. L. Walker, Jr., C. Messmore, C. R. Hathaway, T. J. Thieme, Jack Frost, Lambert Splaine, Carl Fayen, Richard Tufts, Albert Tufts, James Tufts, Stuart Meurice, Robert Snow, Philip Johnson, Henry Swoope, Joe Hotchkiss, J. H. Andrews, G. Gallagher, Edwin Beckwith, Harlow Pierson, C. P. Mason, George B. Morrill, B. V. Harrison, and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Emery.