HOLLY INN OPENS

It seems but a very short time since the orchestra at the Holly Inn played "Home, Sweet Home" as the closing concert number for last season, but on Monday last, January 10, that home-like and popular hotel again swung wide its doors, and is well on its auspicious way toward another happy season. Old friends returning for their annual visit very largely make up the list of those on hand for the opening. Manager and Mrs. Fitzgerald have been on the grounds some time and have spared no efforts in making the Inn the same cheery, home-like place that has always marked its existence. The social festivities at the Inn will begin with a dance for the young people on Saturday evening.

FREAK PLAYS IN ADVERTISERS' TOURNEY

In golf tournaments where unusually large fields participate, freakish occurrences always happen. This is what happened during Tuesday's play in the Advertiser's tournament.

J. A. Migel, of Scarsdale, played the 220-yard blind eighth hole on the Championship course in 3 without having his ball touch the fairway or the green. His drive sliced into the rough. His second shot flew over the green and landed in a trap. His third, a back-spin niblick shot, dropped cleanly into the cup without touching the green, and stayed there.

Henry F. Hosley, of Haworth, and W. H. O'Brien, of Siwanoy, both landed in the same trap, driving for the short seventeenth. Hosley's ball was away, about eighteen inches behind O'Brien's. The Haworth golfer's recovery shot carried O'Brien's ball with it on the follow-through and both balls came to rest on the green with O'Brien's still the original eighteen inches ahead and dead to the pin.

SAND HILL POLO CLUB NOTES

UNITED STATES SHIPPING BOARD

To Hold Convention at Pinehurst

About fifty members of the United States Shipping Board and owners of the country's leading shipping lines will gather at Pinehurst for conferences and an outing for golf during the week beginning January 24.

AT THE LEXINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. "Jack" Reardon are making a big hit with the guests at the Lexington this season, where they are in charge.

They gave a Christmas party, which was a highly enjoyable affair, with a real Santa Claus and a Christmas tree loaded with presents for all who attended, followed with delightful refreshments.

Every Tuesday night Mrs. Reardon entertains a sewing circle party, at which the ladies are taught all the latest tricks with the needle. After the lesson is over the men join in and a grand musicale is enjoyed. Harold Calloway is fine on the piano and there are a number of well tuned voices among the other guests, who render all the latest Broadway hits. Caddy Master Curry furnishes the jokes for the gatherings.

Jack Reardon has taken up golf and is improving daily. He started off one day on Number Two course with three 9's and one 10, and then blew up and took a 16. Jack says he still has hopes of breaking 100 for the first nine before the season is over.
