GOLF CLOTHES LIKE
 GOLF CLUBS HAVE GOT TO "FEEL RIGHT"

WHEN you buy a golf club you are literally fitted to it. You try its weight, its balance, its "give," and its "feel." A golf suit should be put to the same test. Its weight, its balance, its "give" in the blades, its "feel" on the body, all are important. That is why we devote so much time to the modeling and making of our golf clothes. We don't stop at the mere superficial features, such as pockets, pleats, and belts, but dig right into the problem of producing a golf garment which by its fit and "feel" shall give you that sense of capability and confidence which you have when you use your favorite club.
