

Notes of the Week

Mrs. F. E. Long of Detroit. An enthusiastic horsewoman and frequent visitor to Pinehurst who takes part in the various equestrian events here

Recent arrivals among the Cottage colony were Mr. and Mrs. Tyler L. Redfield who have opened up their charming home, Box Court. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Spring are back at the Log Cabin, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. DeMott are at home in Onondaga.

Mrs. Louis Budell and Miss Ada Budell of Westfield, N. J., have returned to the Pine Crest Inn for their annual visit.

Mrs. Melvin Jones of Chicago, Western golf champion, has engaged rooms at the Pine Crest and will be a starter in the annual North and South championship for Women.

Miss Mollie Snyder of Middletown, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Cross at the P. B. O'Brien Cottage.

While Pinehurst has never had the pleasure of entertaining Irving Cobb, the foremost humorist of our time, we have his attractive daughter, known to her many friends as "Buff" Cobb, who, with Miss Marion Callanan, are house-guests of Mrs. Geo. H. Doran at the Chatham Cottage. Miss Cobb takes part in the games at the Races each week and gave the onlookers a thrill last week when her horse took fright, giving her a spill. She was not hurt, fortunately, and insisted on finishing the games on the same horse.

Owen Moore of Film-fame, made a flying trip to Charleston, S. C., last week, where he was detained for a few days making some new and thrilling submarine pictures. But the charm of Pinehurst and Golf drew him back to stay with us a few weeks longer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cross of Middletown, N. Y., and their two interesting daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Georgine, have taken the P. B. O'Brien cottage for the season. Mr. Cross will be with his family as much as possible, commuting from New York and other points in the United States every now and then. Mr. and Mrs. Cross are a great addition to the Pinehurst Cottage Colony and are warmly welcomed by their many friends.

Mrs. Russell Wiggins of Middletown, N. Y., and Pinehurst, and Miss Mollie Snyder of Middletown, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cross at the Carolina on Saturday evening. As Mr. Cross is leaving this week for a short trip to the Coast, the dinner was a farewell party.

Pinehurst welcomes another distinguished guest in the person of Mrs. A. L. Gillispie, better known to the lovers of light Opera as Christie MacDonald. Mr. and Mrs. Gillispie and little Miss Christie, whose home is in Tenafly, N. J., are here for a few weeks stay. Mrs. Gillispie finds many changes and improvements in town since her visit here a few years ago.

Major A. Elliott Ranny was the attentive host at a dinner party at the Carolina on Saturday evening to which were bidden Mrs. Tracy Lewis and her sister, Miss Gertrude Meecham, both of Brooklyn; Capt. and Mrs. A. T. Roberts of Melrose, Scotland; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parsons, Mr. J. C. Daley of New York; Mrs. Evelyn Spencer of Pinehurst, and

Mr. H. C. Buckminster of Boston. Each lady found a bunch of fresh Pinehurst violets at her place, giving the table a festive and graceful touch.

Mrs. A. S. Gilman was the delightful hostess at a card-party in the parlor of the Carolina on Thursday of last week. Mrs. Gilman has made many friends in Pinehurst and her parties are always large and representative gatherings. There were four tables of Auction, the prize winners being Mesdames W. B. Lasher, C. G. Bartlett, J. T. Newton and G. M. Howard.

The Monday morning card-parties at the Carolina are well attended and much enjoyed by the ladies, many of whom are regular guests. The recent prize winners were Mrs. W. B. Lasher, Mrs. W. T. Barr, Mrs. L. E. Beall, Mrs. H. B. Swoope, Mrs. A. S. Gilman, Mrs. V. L. P. Shriver, and Miss Louise Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blackinton of North Attleboro, Mass., who spent last season in one of the Clover Leaf Apartments, are at the Carolina for the season. The lure of golf and the wonderful climate of the Sand Hills proved too great to be resisted and their many friends are glad it was so.

The first Drag-Hunt of the season attracted a large gallery of interested folk to watch the Hunt start from the west end of the Carolina. A great deal of panneling has been done in the vicinity this season, and it was over a portion of this that Mrs. Spencer took her party of merry folk, riding hard after the anisebag and the dogs. In the saddle were Miss "Buff" Cobb, Mr. Kenneth Hutchins of Boston, a house guest of Mr. H. Bradford Lewis, Mrs. Leo F. F. Wanner, Mr. A. H. Corwin of East Orange, N. J., Mr. W. C. Erion and Mr. L. H. Beer of Buffalo, Mr. J. C. Thomas, Mrs. Evelyn P. Spencer, Mr. William A. Baker of Providence, and Mr. Gordon Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Patterson and their two delightful daughters, Misses Louise and Helen of Plainfield, N. J., were given a cordial welcome by their many friends at the Carolina when they arrived on Sunday morning. Miss Louise wields a clever golf club, and is a great addition to the golfing circles, while Miss Helen, who is very musical and charming, is always welcomed among the younger set.

The games at the Races are becoming a most amusing feature each week and are keenly enjoyed by the participants as well as the onlookers. Many of the guests enter and last week ten lovers of good sport contested the four events. Those taking part were: Miss Buff Cobb, Miss Katherine Kolb of Philadelphia, Annie Oakley, Mrs. Leo F. F. Wanner, Mrs. Evelyn P. Spencer, Mr. A. H. Corwin of East Orange, Mr. James B. Waller of Chicago, Mr. William A. Baker of Providence, Mr. J. C. Thomas, and Percy Alexander of Pinehurst, and Mr. Kenneth Hutchins of Boston. Of these the winners of the contests were Mr. Hutchins who won the Potato Race, Mrs. Spencer the Tilting and Judibar, and Percy Alexander won the Musical Stalls.
