J. W. MYERS HIGH GUN IN Masonic Lodge 150 Years Old WEEKLY SHOOT

J. W. Myers of Dedham, Mass., a member of Pinehurst's Cottage colony, was high gun in the field of shooters that took part in the weekly handicap target tournament at the Gun Club, after the shoot-off of a tie with F. A. Buell of Flushing, L. I. With the aid of liberal handicaps both of these shooters registered a perfect score of 100. On the shoot-off of the tie, Myers broke 13-12-25 and Buell was one target behind with 19-5-24. Norwood Johnson and John P. Cope did some exceptionally good shooting in this event, each breaking 94 out of the century, and were the high gross guns of the day. Curtis Wiggs of New York, and A. L. Gillespie, Tenafly, N. J. tied at 99, for third place in the handicap.

The leading scores were:

J. W. Myers, Dedham, Mass.	48-54-100
F. A. Buell, Flushing, L. I.	79-22-100
Curtis Wiggs, New York	71-28-99
A. Gillespie, Tenafly, N. J.	89-10-99
Norwood Johnson, Pittsburg	94-4-98
J. P. Cope, Delaware Water Gap, Pa.	94-4-98
Parker Whittemore, Boston	83-14-97

Masons of New Bern, this state, impersonated notables of colonial times when the 150th anniversary of St. John's lodge No. 3, A. F. & A. M., was celebrated. They wore costumes identical with those sported by "Brother Washington," Martin Howard and Isaac Guion and others in 1795, when a re-assignment gave St. John's lodge the designation "No. 3." The lodge had then been in existence nearly a generation.

NOTES OF THE WEEK

Mollie Snyder, her house guest from Middletown, N. Y., Mrs. Russell Grinnell of Providence, Mrs. Russell Wiggins of Middletown and Pinehurst, and Mrs. H. B. Emery.

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Stone of Boston, have returned for their yearly visit. Mr. Stone of Hayden & Stone, Bankers, is extremely well-known in financial circles throughout New England, wielding wide influence in musical affairs as well, as he is one of the directors of the re-organized Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Another very well-known Bostonian is Mr. John P. Feeney, whose brilliant successes before the Bar have placed him in the front ranks of the legal profession in Massachusetts.

Mr. Harry Wilkinson of Chicago, the clever editor of the Chicago Banker, is at the Carolina for a little visit. Mr. Wilkinson loves Pinehurst in the late spring, and we hope he will go back feeling repaid for making a visit at this season, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Atkinson and two adorable babies from Upperville, Va., are guests at the Berkshire. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson are prominent socially and have many friends among the important folk in this section.

Mr. Wm. J. Knott, head of the Knott system of hotels in New York, is here for a little relaxation and golf and is making the Berkshire his home while in Pinehurst.

Sir Robert L. Borden, of Ottawa, Canada, is a distinguished arrival at the Carolina this week. Pinehurst is honored to have an ex-premier of Canada for a guest, and to hear him say he is delighted with the climate of our Sand Hills. Sir Robert is one of the important and influential men in Canada, having given to his country the great service of a clear and powerful mind and a devotion of the highest order.

Mr. C. F. Dow of Detroit, who left us for Florida, is back again in Pinehurst where his wife and daughter will join him a little later. Mr. Dow feels too much at home in the Sand Hills to be lured away from them by the charms of Florida.

At the Highland Pines Inn last week a large and important affair was the Benefit Bridge in aid of the McConnell Hospital. This Hospital is doing a great work in this section, filling a need that has long existed for the care of the residents in the vicinity, but for emergency cases among our guests. The party was a success both socially and financially, for there were twenty-six tables of bridge and three hundred and fifty dollars were realized from the function.

Mrs. P. C. Thomas of Rome, N. Y., is with us again for a visit, arriving in time for the Kennel Show with a fine Police dog. Mrs. Thomas also brought her saddle horses and will remain for the season. She is an ardent sportswoman and is seen in the saddle daily.

A great deal of interest and fun centered about a putting-contest in the lobby and halls of the Holly Inn last week in which many of the guests joined. It was right hard, too, for bunkers and traps laid in strategic spots, called forth real skill with mashie and putter. Miss Katherine Gallup of Syracuse, N. Y., won the ladies' prize with a score of ten and Miss Elizabeth Lemont was second with twelve. Mr. Charles N. Thorpe of Pittsburg, won the gentlemen's prize with an eight, and Mr. H. A. Sipe of Pittsburg, was second with ten. One of our most prominent Tin Whistlers got into difficulties and ran up a big score, but we are not going to tell you who it was.

It is always a pleasure to welcome Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Blackburn of Pittsburg, Pa., who have been making the Holly Inn their headquarters in Pinehurst for many years. Mr. Blackburn is an ardent golfer, spending his time on the links and the nineteenth hole at the Holly and Mrs. Blackburn is a great addition to the social life of the Inn. We are mighty glad to have them with us.

Kennel-show week has brought an unusual number of men and women who are well-known figures in the world of blue-ribbon winners. Of these no one is better known than Mr. Wm. J. Bristol of Statesville, N. C. Mr. Bristol is an authority on dogs and one of the largest fanciers in America. Mrs. Bristol and four lovely children are with him at the Holly Inn.

Mrs. Sidney Franc of New York, a well-known dog-fancier, is here with her Pekingese, the breeding of which is her specialty.

Mr. Harry J. Sohmer of New York, president of the piano company of that name, is a guest at the Holly.

Mrs. H. W. Priest always extends a cordial welcome to all ladies who are guests of the town and country-side, who come to play, so Monday morning saw a large group of ladies gathered for auction at the Carolina. There were seven tables and the ladies carrying off the prizes were Mrs. Hoyt Flanders, Mrs. E. H. Lemont, Pittsburg; Mrs. A. D. Fisher, Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. A. T. Roberts, Melrose, Scotland; Mrs. J. T. Newton, Pinehurst; Mrs. John Tuckerman, Pinehurst; and Miss Helen Patterson, Plainfield, N. J.

CAUSTIC DAVE

Dave C. stepped into Ed. Wise's the other day and asked "the man who knows" for a pair of sox. "What number?" he queried. "Two, you poor dumbbell! Do I look like a centipede?" — Hollywood High School News.
