

Notes of the Week

The past week has been a busy one in the social life of the Pinehurst folk, for numbers of gay little teas and Auction, dinner and dancing parties have marked the week with merry punctuation.

Important among these have been the informal affairs given by Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Robeson in honor of their son, Stacy, and his bonny bride, a young couple who by their sincerity and charm have won all hearts. Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Robeson entertained at Tea at the Country Club in honor of the bride and groom. Among their guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Morse of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sage of Rochester, Mrs. W. B. Merrill of Boston, and her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Motley of Rochester, Capt. and Mrs. A. T. Roberts of Melrose, Scotland,

A guest of prominence at the Carolina is Mr. Lewis E. Pierson, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Irving National Bank of New York City, one of the largest and most progressive banking institutions in the country. Mr. Pierson is not only an imposing figure in the world of finance, and a dignified and charming gentleman who is a frequent visitor here, but he is counted among Pinehurst's most valued and loyal friends

Mr. Charles J. Corwin, Eminent Commander of De Molay Commandry Knight Templers of Boston, Mass., is a guest at the Carolina this week. While in Pinehurst Mr. Corwin will visit the Southern Pines Commandry, and assist in conferring the final degree of the order on H. B. Emery, who is a member of Mr. Corwin's Commandry.

sell Wiggins, and H. H. Johnson. A number of ladies came to tea later, so it was a large and charming affair, the ladies taking prizes being Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Atherton, Mrs. Marr, and Mrs. Covert.

Mrs. L. C. Beall gave a dinner party at the Carolina Thursday evening to which were bidden as her guests, Mrs. Tracy Lewis and her sister, Miss Gertrude Meecham, Major A. E. Ranney, Ned Beall and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Middleton of New York.

Under the hospitable roof of Box Court, her charming home, Mrs. Tyler L. Redfield gathered a group of friends for luncheon and two tables of Auction on Friday of last week. Without, the day was dull of sky, but within no hint of it

Then we saw that Mr. John P. Cope and Miss Cope, members of the Cottage Colony, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gillispie (Christie MacDonald), and they, too, stayed to dance awhile in the evening.

The Arthur Newcombs entertained a party of friends who are so well known as to need no introduction to Pinehurstians, for everyone knows the Thomas McGraws, the Leslie Pierces, and Dr. and Mrs. Mudgett from over Southern Pines way. And so it was very merry at the Carolina until after the dance when some inexhaustible and enthusiastic folk went over to the Hurd party at the Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Truesdale of New York, Miss Louise Emery, Mr. D. D. Brill of New York, and Mr. Archibald Dupuy, also of Rochester, N. Y.

Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. B. V. Covert entertained a party of friends in a unique and gracious manner at the Carolina. While it was called a Thimble-party, the forms of entertainment were varied and amusing. Thimbles there were, also knitting needles and, maybe, crochet hooks and two tables of Auction while a very original touch was given by a number of conundrums, the answers to which were the surnames of the lady guests, giving a clever personal touch to a pleasant afternoon. Mrs. Covert's guests were Mesdames H. H. Johnson, S. A. D. Shepard, I. S. Robeson, A. S. Gilman, and her guest, Mrs. Frank Pelton; Mrs. C. L. Bausher, Madam Tufts, Mrs. James S. Brown, Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. Norman Johnson, Mrs. Tyler L. Redfield, Mrs. A. E. Atherton, Mrs. Stuart Patterson, Mrs. L. C. Beall, Mrs. W. E. Truesdale, Mrs. Carter, Miss Child, and Mrs. H. W. Priest.

Their friends in town are glad to have the George N. Towles of Boston and Effingham, N. H., back again. Mr. Towle is an important figure in Boston financial circles and, with Mrs. Towle, have made Pinehurst their winter playground whenever possible. Being such charming folk they have drawn about them many sincere friends who have given them a most cordial welcome to Pinehurst. Mr. and Mrs. Towle entertained in their gracious fashion a few dinner guests at the Berkshire Thursday night. Mrs. A. E. Atherton was guest of honor and Mr. and Mrs. Tyler L. Redfield, Oliver Redfield and Louise Emery made the party complete.

Mrs. A. S. Gilman was hostess at a Bridge and Tea at the Carolina last week in honor of her guest Mrs. Frank Pelton, who is being much entertained by her friends in town. There were four tables of Auction, around which gathered Mesdames T. L. Redfield, C. L. Bausher, A. E. Atherton, I. S. Robeson, Frank Pelton, H. W. Priest, J. S. Brown, F. T. Keating, M. W. Marr, B. V. Covert, Stuart Patterson, W. B. Merrill, Rus-remained, and when luncheon was served the guests were greeted by a vision of spring and sunshine, for the table was exquisitely decorated with yellow snapdragon and the songs of birds mingled with the hum of voices, while the dainty lunch was served. The afternoon was spent happily at auction, Mrs. W. B. Merrill and Mrs. A. E. Atherton being the prize winners. The guests were Mrs. George Motley of Rochester, Mrs. A. E. Atherton of New York, Mrs. C. L. Bausher of New York and Pinehurst, Mrs. W. B. Merrill of Boston and Pinehurst, Mrs. A. S. Gilman of Cleveland, Mrs. Geo. N. Towle of Boston, and Mrs. J. D. C. Rumsey of Brooklyn and Pinehurst.

A number of folk chose last Saturday night to entertain their friends at dinner and dancing at the Carolina. At one table we saw that Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Middleton of New York had gathered a lively party about them, for Mrs. Tracy Lewis and her sister, Miss Gertrude Meecham, Mrs. L. C. Beall, Miss Ryan, Mr. J. C. Daley and Major Elliott Ranney were the guests.

try Club, for Saturday night a "home-folk" supper was spread for their guests, and while the table was laden to groaning under the delicious things to eat, all other sounds were of merriment. After supper, under mellow lights, the guests danced to the music that always assures lightness of step and joy of motion. Punch was served during the evening and dancing continued until early hours when "good mornings" were said and another successful party was added to the list of smart social doings in town. There were the Fred, Lee and Ralph Pages, the Will Blues, the John Chapmans, the Charlie Bauser, the John Tuckermans, the Richard Loverings, the Nat Hurds, of course, Major Ranney, Capt. Bryan, Charles Mason, H. J. Blue, Ned Beall, Mrs. Jay V. Hall, Mrs. Winfield Fuller, Mrs. J. G. Splane, Mrs. Tracy Lewis, Livingston Biddle, 2d, J. V. Hurd, Dr. and Mrs. Mudgett and the Ed. Scoffields.

Mrs. William E. Cross entertained a few friends at Tea at the Country Club last Saturday afternoon to meet Miss
