

AT THE HOLLY INN

MRS. DONALD J. ROSS

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Janet Conchie Ross, which occurred on Sunday night, February 12.

Her passing has brought sorrow to the whole Pinehurst community and a host of sympathetic friends gathered at the Pinehurst Chapel to pay their last tribute.

Her gentle, sympathetic, sweet spirited nature gave her a place that was all her own, and the world is richer for her having lived.

THE OUTLOOK desires in this simple way to lay its offering of respect and regard, and to extend its sincere sympathy to the bereaved husband and daughter.

BLUES DEFEAT WHITES IN POLO GAME

An unusually large crowd turned out on Sunday afternoon to witness a keenly contested polo match between the Blues and the Whites, in which the former triumphed by a score of 8 goals to 5.

The grounds and weather were perfect and a fast galloping game ensued. One of the features of the game was the brilliant playing of John A. Tuckerman and Lydig Hoyt, the former scoring four goals for the Blues while Mr. Hoyt registered three for the Whites. Other goals scored were Captain Bryan 2, Jack Latting 1 and R. S. Lovering 1 for the Blues, and Frank Haserick 2 for the Whites.

The line-up was:

BLUES

1. Jack Latting.
 2. J. A. Tuckerman.
 3. R. S. Lovering.
- Back—Capt. A. Loftus Bryan.

WHITES

1. Capt. C. Ripley.
 2. Fred Haserick.
 3. Lydig Hoyt.
- Back—W. V. Slocock.
Umpire—Major Carlisle of Camp Bragg.

THE INVESTMENT OF THE FUTURE

MONEY is getting easier. Know why? Accumulating capital is hunting investment. The billions of liberty bonds are about absorbed. But we are going ahead in this country making money as fast as ever.

What are we to do with it?

There is a problem that is soon to face the investor.

We are piling up capital faster in this country than ever before and faster than anything the world ever saw.

Where are the billions of new accumulations to be invested?

Factories, railroads, stores, and everything are producing pretty freely for the demand, and new industries cannot forever be using increased capital.

But people need a lot of new houses.

Real estate development will always be calling for capital.

No place in the world like a bit of house development in the Sandhills. Nothing more permanent. Nothing more satisfactory.

Knollwood offers a fine choice of location for a big or little investment.
