

Notes of the Week

Mr. Philip B. Stanley of New Britain, Conn., has leased the Balleymooney cottage, and with Mrs. Stanley will spend the remainder of the season here.

* * *

Mrs. Constance B. Prosser and little daughter of Englewood, N. J., have taken apartments in the Clover Leaf, as have Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Toppin of New York.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Brown of Brookline, Mass., who have spent the first part of the season at the Highland Pines Inn, Southern Pines, have rented Mr. J. Ebb Weir's cottage at Pinehurst and will spend the remainder of the season here.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. O'Brien and family of Detroit, regular members of Pinehurst's cottage colony, but who were detained much later than usual this season, will arrive this week and will occupy the new Elberta cottage which has just been completed.

While the town is filled to overflowing with devotees of golf who are mostly too tired for the social whirl, and with the advent of Lent when there is always a slight pause in the winter's gaiety, there are still numbers of little affairs to be made mention of in these notes.

* * *

At the Holly Inn where one finds a group of guests who are especially congenial, sport-loving folk, there is always something afoot in the way of amusement. Last week, Mrs. Hoyt Gallup of Syracuse, gave a Bridge party of four tables at which sixteen of her friends were entertained. Mrs. A. N. Edwards of Boston, won the first prize, and Mrs. Robert R. Cookman of Fitchburg, Mass., won the second. Tea was served later, to which came a number of ladies who did not play bridge.

* * *

In passing the Inn another day we became at once interested in unusual activity on the putting-green which was explained by the information that a very public-spirited lady, Mrs. Robert Cookman of Fitchburg, had donated two prizes for which the ladies at the Inn were contesting. After a lengthy but interesting contest the prizes were won by Mrs. J. Olmstead of Hamilton, Ont., and Miss E. E. K. Lemont of Philadelphia, first and second in the order named.

Mrs. Winfield Fuller drew about her for tea and dancing at the Club on Monday last a number of friends who are familiar figures at that popular rendezvous. Her guests included Mr. and Mrs. John D. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Nat S. Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner White, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Page, Messrs. Livingstone Biddle and Harry Curtis, and Mr. and Mrs. Toppin of New York, who have just arrived for a little visit.

Last week a large party of energetic folk rode after the hounds on a drag-hunt that proved both interesting and successful. Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Riggs Jones and Spencer Welton of Baltimore; Miss C. E. Shepard, Miss Lake and G. H. Pratt, Jr., of Hartford; H. H. Franklin and Edward Dann of Syracuse; L. H. Gates of Plainfield; Miss Grace Pierson and Mrs. Leo F. F. Wanner of New York; Miss Dorothy Barber; Rico Thonet of Paris; Chris Greer of New York; Miss Marie Fallon of Boston; John Shaw of Washington; Allen Rinehart and Mrs. Evelyn P. Spencer; all of whom are seen much in the saddle, made this party one of unusual interest.

On a day that promised little but rain some of these same tireless riders went over to the Exhibition building and there staged another Musical Gymkhana, where games were played and dances danced a-horse-back to merry tunes played by the Carolina Orchestra. Prizes were given to the winners of the games as follows: Tilting, Miss Grace Pierson, New York, and Rico Thonet, Paris, won the ladies' and gentlemen's prize respectively; Miss Barbara Prosser, New York, and Spencer Welton, Baltimore, shared the honors in the Water race; Miss Marjorie Lake, New York, won the prize in the Egg and Spoon race; Miss Marie Fallon, Boston, with Geo. H. Pratt, Hartford, were winners in the Potato race.

At the Carolina during the past week there have been numbers of pleasant dinner parties, large and small, all informal and entirely delightful to hosts and guests alike. One of these was a dinner to which Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Whitcomb of Plainfield, invited the John Chapmans, the Donald Parsons, the Gardner Whites of Oyster Bay, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coriell, Mrs. Meigs, and Major A. E. Ranney as their guests. The same evening Mr. and Mrs. William Lyons of New York, entertained Mrs. Tracy Lewis and her sister, Miss Meecham of Brooklyn, and A. Lucien Walker of New York, who came for dinner and remained for the dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Dunlap also entertained at dinner in honor of their two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Richle of New York, and Mrs. Ralph W. Fulton of Garden City, who are here for a real rest and visit with their many friends in town. Still another party was that given by Mr. and Mrs. George G. Baker of Brooklyn, to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barr and their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Gray of Larchmont Manor, N. Y., Dr. Williams and Mr. John M. Garside of New York.

* * *

Another affair, small but very friendly, was the dinner where Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Kellen of Boston entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Truesdell of New York.
