THE SILVER FOILS AND TIN WHISTLES PLAY MIXED FOURSOMES

Members of the Tin Whistles and Silver Foils held their annual mixed foursome tournaments during the week past, the Tin Whistles extending invitations to the ladies to play on Thursday and the Silver Foils entertaining the following day. These two enjoyable tournaments were held over the Number 1, Number 3, and championship courses, strokes being allotted according to the course selected for play.

On Thursday when the Tin Whistles played, there was a tie for the first net prize between three pairs, at 81. These were Mrs. Herman Ellis and H. G. Waring, 89-8—81, Miss Francis Bicknell and W. Bicknell, 94-14—81, and Mrs. I. S. Robeson and S. Y. Ramage, 94-14—81. Mrs. M. J. Scammell and Dr. G. T. Gregg of the Oakmont Club, Pittsburg, returned the low gross score, at 83, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parson were second, at 84. Fifty-seven pairs competed.

On the following day the Silver Foils tournament was played and the scoring was better. It required a net score of 78 to win first place. This was returned by Miss Marion Witherill and R. C. Woolworth, who were 88-8—80, with a credit of two strokes allowed for playing the Number 3 course. Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Pierce of Rochester, did a fine 93-15—79 on Number 1 course and won the second prize, and Mrs. Roy Blackington and W. W. Windle, playing the same course, took third prize with 99-20—80. A plus 1 handicap was imposed on players playing the Number 1 course.

These events were regulation mixed Scotch foursomes, with the players alternating shots. The ladies drove from the first tee and then alternated with their partners. The scoring in both the Tin Whistle and Silver Foils was low.

The card made by Mrs. Scammell and Dr. Gregg in the Tin Whistles tournament on the Number 1 course and that of Mr. and Mrs. Parson, are well worth giving.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Chapman had the lowest gross score in the Silver Foils event with an 85 on Number 1 course, and Miss Sarah Fownes and Howard Phillips were next, with 86, on the Number 2 course.

OTTERKIL ISABEL

Isabel lives in a private apartment at the Pinehurst Dairy, as she is one of the stars among the bovine elite of that aristocratic colony of Ayrshires. Altho she is of the purest Scotch blood and her ancestors lived in a byre, she was born in America and is one hundred per cent. American. She has her own personal attendant who looks after her every comfort, sees that her meals are served exactly on time and milks her four times a day.

Every morning at three o'clock she has a light breakfast of fifteen pounds of bran, corn meal, oats, gluten, beet pulp and corn ensilage, and she breakfasts again at nine. She goes without lunch but at three o'clock she has afternoon tea, and at nine she has dinner, but the menu is always the same unless she feels like eating a bushel or so of grass or green rye between meals.

In return for all this kindness and attention she gives all the milk she possibly can, for she is no slacker and believes in a square deal. One day last month she gave 80 pounds of 4.19 per cent. milk which, translated into ordinary English, means 9 gallons, 1 quart and 1 pint of milk, or enough to serve 188 people one glass apiece, or 4 pounds of butter and about 175 glasses of buttermilk. Every twelve days she gives her own weight in milk and in less than a year she makes her weight in butter.

LEADING WOMEN GOLFERS TO TAKE PART IN NORTH and SOUTH

A number of the country's foremost women golfers are now in Pinehurst to take part in the annual North and South championship for women, which starts with the qualifying round on Friday of this week and will continue at match play through Wednesday, March 29. The championship division will be made up of sixteen players and the other divisions will have eight players each.

While the field includes many players prominent in woman's national golf, the favorite for the championship title will probably be Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, winner of the recent Belleair championship at Belleair, Florida. Miss Collett won the medal in the qualifying round of the national championship; won the Boston district and the Rhode Island titles and has demonstrated all season that when she is on her best game she is the equal of any woman player in the country. Her victory over Miss Cecil Leitch in competition at Philadelphia, was a noteworthy performance.

Mrs. Melville Jones of Olympia Fields, Western champion and a qualifier in the National at Hollywood, will be a strong contender, as will Miss Edith Cummings and Mrs. Harold E. Foreman, both of Chicago. It is probable that Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr., of Chicago, will not start, as she has not been in the South this season. Mrs. Letts played here last year, and because of her brilliant victory at the eighteenth hole over Miss Cecil Leitch in the American championship at Hollywood, she would be an interesting competitor.

A number of women who are members of the winter golfing colony here and others who make long visits here will play an important part in the championship. Mrs. John D. Chapman, Mrs. Donald Parson, Mrs. R. H. Barlow, Mrs. M. J. Scammell, Miss Sara Fownes, and Mrs. Herman Ellis should all qualify in the first division and do well in match play.

Miss Harriet Sheppard and Miss Kate Bowman are capable golfers and should be in the championship flight; Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, present title holder, will not be here to defend her title.

There is every prospect that Miss Elizabeth Gordon of Providence, winner of the St. Valentine's tournament, will be here for the championship, accompanied by her sister, Miss Margaret. Miss Gordon is one of the finest match-play golfers in America, and her straight and steady game very often overcomes players who can outdrive the Providence player by many yards.
