PINEHURST COMMUNITY CLUB

After awakening Eagle Springs, as reported in the press last week, Miss Emily Walker came to Pinehurst. For awakening and readjusting communities, Miss Walker has a complete stock of everything required, ranging from earthquakes to pulmotors, and the result of her work thus far would indicate that she doesn't Putt with a Driver.

Just what she used on Pinehurst we cannot say, but this we know: the place is not unlike a disturbed ant-hill. Everybody is hustling around to complete the tasks assigned and all are engaged in the highest work in which the human family is privileged to participate, — doing something for others.

In the short space of one week, the Pinehurst Community Club was organized and is now a going concern; officers have been elected, committees appointed, constitution and by-laws drafted, and many plans for community betterment are well under way. Officers were elected as follows. President, G. McG. Cameron; Vice-President, A. P. Thompson; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. I. C. Sledge. The following were appointed as Chairmen of Standing Committees: Program, I. C. Sledge; Publicity, O. H. Stutts; Look-out, Roswell E. Wicker; Recreational, John W. Latting. As the work grows, other committees will be appointed as needed.

This work originated in the formation of a council composed of representatives from all sections of the County. In response to a call from this council for a Community Worker, Miss Walker is now in the County directing the organization of Community Clubs, etc.

Her work at Pinehurst has been a revelation. In her own good way, she has visited the people in their homes, workshops or offices. The school was visited daily, teachers were consulted, boys and girls taught games, and a School Council organized consisting of three boys and three girls to work with the teachers in improving the general conduct of the school, and be responsible, in a way, for the conduct of the pupils both in school and out. One afternoon she called a meeting of the women of the Community. That night the men were called together. The next night all met at the Community House, and the Pinehurst Community Club sprang from that meeting.

It reminded us of a remark made by Bob Seeds several years ago when addressing a large Chautauqua audience in the west. In referring to community betterment, he stated that if the people of that community didn't stop getting together the first thing they knew they would be "making Christians out of the Church Members."

The County Council has made other appointments for Miss Walker and the good which will result cannot be over-estimated.

Neither time nor space will permit giving the details of plans already formulated for the betterment of the Pinehurst community. Suffice it to say that a new day has dawned. Our lives are cast in the midst of a veritable noonday splendor. Physically speaking, opportunity is tagging us every hour of the twenty-four. Treasures are unearthed and the on-rush of civilization is such that every day she finds herself next door to the wilderness. Economically speaking, we are a nation of problem solvers, and we leap from the solution of one into the complexity of the next,— therein lies our glory.

Let's arm ourselves with Courage; plan for big and wholesome things! In Agriculture and Industry, united effort has accomplished wonders for the Sand-hill section. Watch this Community spirit grow!

Our prayer is that this Community spirit will continue to spread and, in mounting the ladder of achievement, may no community in the County have the misfortune to meet another one coming down.

O. H. STUTTS, Chairman,

Publicity Committee.

JOE KIRKWOOD HERE

Joseph Kirkwood, the Australian champion and trick shot artist, arrived in Pinehurst this week on the first lap of his second world-wide golfing tour, and the popular Australian was given a rousing welcome.

Kirkwood will play in the open North and South championship which starts here on Friday of this week, and will sail for England the first of May for the British championships. He will take in the French Open and other important events there and then return to the United States for the big league championships on this side of the water. It is likely that he will team with Walter Hagen on an exhibition tour, in which event it should be a big golfing attraction.
