Tuesday afternoon at the new tea room conducted by Mrs. Jessie B. Lake at her farm house some five miles from the village, Mrs. Charles B. Hudson was hostess for a number of her friends at tea. The guests were Mrs. Rumsey, Mrs. Covert, Mrs. Priest, Mrs. Newcomb, Mrs. Seibert, Mrs. Mudgett, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Malgas, Mrs. Slocock, Mrs. Moles, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Waring, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Oglesby and Miss Caroline Bogart.

From all quarters of the village come expressions of appreciation for the serenade Christmas eve night when the Carolina orchestra serenaded the village with a saxophone quartet playing Christmas carols. It was one of the prettiest things we have heard in some time. By special request the carols were repeated at the races Christmas afternoon. The performers were Wiley Pope Swift, Harold Greene, Ezra J. Harvey and P. T. Burleigh.

About thirty miles of ground was covered by the fox hunters on Friday on a chase that lasted from 7 o'clock in the morning until 11, but Reynard held the upper hand and still remains at large. Among the riders were the Misses Butterfield, Miss Winton, Mr. C. H. Brackebush, Mrs. McDonald, Mr. H. H. Beckwith and Miss Beckwith, Miss Fletcher, Mrs. Marjorie Graham and Messrs. Higgins, Ancona, Dick Slaughter, Jr., John Dailey, Jr., and Dr. Paterno.

At the Christmas day races, Miss Roberta Lewis, of Chicago, won the Egg and Spoon contest after several ties with Miss Laura Butterfield. Miss Butterfield won the Musical Stalls event and Miss Lewis' sister, Miss Marion Lewis, won the Ribbon race. Greenway Boy, who won the triple bar jump at the Pinehurst horse show last spring, owned by C. C. Coddington and ridden by Johnny Thomas, carried off the prize in the high jumps.
