

Franklin Simon & Co.

Fifth Avenue, 57th and 58th Streets New York

For Madame and Mademoiselle

Homestead

Registration applied for in the United States Patent Office

PRINTED KNITTED CHIFFON ALPACA SPORTS FROCKS

45.00

This is the Deauville Frock which has been the success of the Palm Beach Season

Colors: Chinese Red, Beige, Rust, Gray, French Blue, Jade or Corn

Exclusive with Franklin Simon & Co.

Charge Accounts Solicited

Entire Contents Copyrighted, 1923, by Franklin Simon & Co., Inc.

Peace be to the fox! The spirit of the hunt is kept up by the drag-hunts now, the first of which was held on Friday and called out a number of enthusiastic riders. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Day, Mr. J. M. Huber and Miss Gertrude Huber, Messrs. Beverly Walters, C. H. Brackebush and Walter Swoope and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Gates. Mrs. Gates will be remembered by her many friends in Pinehurst as Mrs. Evelyn Spencer.

Miss Mabel A. Leas, of Philadelphia, has leased the Suffolk Cottage and will spend the remainder of the season in Pinehurst.

Miss Hazel Wilcox, of Cromwell, Conn., and Miss Katharine Wallace, of Wallingford, were dinner guests of the Misses Richards at the Holly Inn on Friday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Marr entertained Dr. John A. Foote, of Washington, at dinner at the Carolina on Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur P. Yearsley, of Coatsville, Pa., who is a guest at The Berkshire, entertained at tea at the Country Club on Saturday for Mrs. M. W. Jones, of Germantown, Pa., Mrs. Bosworth and Miss Bosworth, of Hollywood, Southern Pines; Mrs. George H. Lawrence, of Boston; Mrs. J. A. Nealey, of Providence, and Mrs. James L. Jenks, of Pawtucket.

Mr. W. C. Thomson, of St. Petersburg, Fla., was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Upson at The Carolina on Sunday.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. S. Strout, of Biddeford, Maine, gave a dainty birthday tea at the Country Club in honor of Mrs. H. B. Emery. Mr. Strout, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hart, of Williamstown, Mass., and Mr. Emery were the other guests.

The popularity of the tea tables at the Country Club makes it impossible to do more than give a glance at those presiding behind the urn. We have seen at the head of the table in the last few days Mrs. Russell Wiggins, Mrs. M. M. Upson, Mrs. G. W. Wilson, Mrs. C. L. Bausher, Mrs. Sidney Putney, Mrs. Willard Turner, Mrs. F. E. May, Mrs. H. B. Kirkover, Mrs. E. C. Converse, Mrs. Abbot Smith, Mrs. H. B. Swoope, Mrs. Henry Page, Mrs. J. A. Nealey, Mrs. W. C. Hart, Mrs. W. J. Filoon, Miss A. M. Kelley, Mrs. Alexander Grossett, Mr. E. S. Tweedy, Mrs. J. D. Chapman, Mrs. R. H. MacDonald, Mr. James Barber, Mrs. Eberhard, Mrs. W. B. Ruthrauff, Mrs. J. D. Standish, Mrs. C. H. Pray, Mrs. W. B. Lowe and many others.

The winners at the Monday morning bridge at the Carolina this week were Mrs. W. H. Underdown, of New Bedford, Mass.; Mrs. A. L. Brockway, of Syracuse; Mrs. A. S. Gilman, of Cleveland; Mrs. G. P. Norton, of Fitchburg, Mass.; Mrs. W. T. Bassett, of Chicago; Mrs. Alexander Marcy, of Riverton, N. J.; Mrs. M. Malony, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. N. C. Sanders, of Ft. Thomas, Ky.

A very pretty bridge and tea was given at the Country Club on Saturday when Mrs. George N. Towle, of Boston, entertained in honor of Mrs. W. G. Soule, of Newton, Mass. Her guests were Mrs. C. L. Bausher, Mrs. Homer H. Johnson, Mrs. W. B. Merrill, Miss Mary Lord, Mrs. T. T. Watson, Mrs. William C. Conant, Mrs. William Smithers, Mrs. William T. Barr, Mrs. Parker W. Whittemore, Mrs. George M. Howard, Miss Lydia Wright, Mrs. A. S. Gilman, Mrs. J. D. C. Rumsey, Mrs. Robert Stewart, Mrs. William Homer, Mme. Spring, Mrs. Bartholomew and a number of others who joined the party for tea. The bridge prizes were beautifully embroidered card table covers and were won by Mrs. Soule, Mrs. Howard, Miss Wright and Mrs. Barr.