

H. A. Page Wins at Traps

B. V. COVERT, of Lockport, N. Y., and Henry A. Page, Jr., of Aberdeen, members of the quartette that tied with perfect scores in the weekly 100-target handicap trapshooting tournament last week, took up the battle anew this week and again wound up in a tie at 100 each. On the shoot-off of twenty-five targets Covert shot with a 2 handicap and finished with a net score of 20-2-22 as against 21-3-24 for Page, winner of the prize. Norwood Johnston, of Pittsburgh, another member of the perfect score squad last week, did not shoot so well this week and finished with 81-11-92. George F. Hamilton, of Two-Rivers, Wis., was a close third with a net score of 98. Other good scores were: C. C. Allen, of Kenosha, Wis., 87-10-97, and Henry Des Rochers, of Woonsocket, R. I., 75-30-95.

Mrs. Ralph Hornblower, of Boston, winner of the women's rifle shooting contest last week, took part in the clay target event this week and finished with the very creditable score of 53-24-77.

Carolina Golf Association to Meet at Pinehurst

A GREAT deal of interest is being taken in the annual tournaments of the Carolina Golf Association which will hold its championships at Pinehurst on May 7 to 12.

The tournaments include both men's and women's events and will bring together some 300 golfers from the two Carolinas. This is the first time the association has voted to play at Pinehurst, and naturally all the members are looking forward with much interest to playing courses which are internationally recognized. A great many Carolina players have already tried their hands on the links here and have given a good account of themselves.

The program starts on Monday with an amateur-professional best-ball event and an amateur best-ball medal round, and the same day the ladies will engage in an 18-hole medal round of their own.

On Tuesday the qualifying rounds of the regular tournaments, both men's and women's, will be played and match play rounds will follow until Saturday when the finals will be decided.

In addition to the regular tournaments a number of special events have been planned, and the week promises to be a great one for golf.
