Why Some People Always
 Send THE OUTLOOK Home

1. It may contain their names in print sometime during the season. At all events, it is the chance of a life time and should not be overlooked.
2. It is even possible that they may, accidentally, wander into the path of the photographer as he makes his lightning dashes about Pinehurst.
3. For those who have friends and relatives in Pinehurst, THE OUTLOOK has been the Village weekly for thirty-four years.

No subscription coupon is attached to this advertisement, but if you really want to subscribe to THE OUTLOOK, it can probably be arranged. It is $2.00 by the season, from now until this time next year.

Pinehurst's Multiplying Homes

John Smith had a packet of seed corn. He planted it and in the fall he had a bushel. That is the way of the earth.

Each summer Pinehurst harvests another crop of new homes, for homes multiply like everything else.

This summer's building schedule seems now to be one of the biggest on record. But that is the way year by year. More folks come this way all the time.

Much land has been secured by prospective home makers during the winter and spring.

Good time now to secure yours if you have not already done it. Somebody else may have it when you come back in the fall if you don't get it before you go.
