Evelyn Godwin, Gatesville, Is 'Miss Ahoskie Of 1966'

AHOSKIE - Evelyn Newsome Godwin, a 17-year-old Gatesville girl, won the 'Miss Ahoskie of 1966' title Saturday night in the Roanoke-Chowan Pageant. She was awarded the title for her comic interpretation of the Jack and Jill story. Miss Godwin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Godwin. She will compete in the Miss North Carolina Pageant to be held at Greensboro.

Second runner-up was Carol Anita Hicks, 18-year-old from Windsor. She played the clarinet and the piano. The winner and the runners-up were chosen from the five finalists which included Annette Harrell Fairless and Brenda Joyce Harlow, both 18. The five were each required to answer a question from a list of five questions, which they drew one by one, and which determined the final standings after they had displayed their talents and appeared in bathing suits and evening dresses.

WHAT'S NEWS AT NORTHAMPTON MEMORIAL LIBRARY

For the past two months it has been our pleasure to help many young students from Northampton High School choose reference books for term papers assigned in many different subjects. These young people have come from many sections of the county. Steve Glover came from Margaretville riding double on a Honda and went away with five heavy books about General Jubal Stuart and his famous war horses. Young Mike Kidd found all 12 of his needed reference books on the life of Jefferson Davis and recently needed a wheelbarrow for loading them in his car. Little Marie Edwards found her subject - Martha Washington - so fascinating that even after she had finished the rough draft of her paper, she took out several more books on the life of Martha and George Washington at Mount Vernon.

English and American poets to be able to keep ahead of the requests from the English classes at the high school. We have been both surprised and pleased to see the enthusiasm with which these boys and girls have approached the job of reading for and the writing of these term papers. Our hats are off to the faculty of Northampton High for giving them the opportunity to try their wings in the field of research and writing. The resources of this library are at your disposal, and we welcome the opportunity to help. Recently, Grady Vaughan, a steady visitor to the bookmobile at its Potomac stop, started us on a hunt for two books written in the late 1800's. When he was a young man, Mrs. Vaughan read "Ishmael" and "Self-Raised" and wants to read them again. Where to find them? Written long ago and out of print! We began to search and inquire. Mrs. J. R. Edwards of Seaboard found that EDEN Southworth was the author. Last week we found the books themselves in Mrs. A. C. Gay's attic. So on our next bookmobile trip to Potomac we will take "Ishmael" and "Self-Raised" to Mr. Vaughan.

Use Caution Burning In Fields
CONWAY - The chiefs of the county's volunteer fire departments have urged everyone to use extreme caution when burning off fields, gardens or lighting any outdoor fires.

"If a permit is required in your community, be sure and apply for it before lighting fires," Joe Frank Draper, Conway's chief, reminded this week. Even with all the rains we have had in the area, it is dryer than you think and fires can quickly spread and do a great deal of damage, so we are urging everyone to use caution when burning this spring, Draper added.

HEADQUARTERS BURGWIN FOR CLERK OF SUPERIOR COURT JACKSON, N. C.

Dear Fellow Democrat and Voter,
Allow me the use of this means to announce my candidacy for CLERK OF SUPERIOR COURT, NORTHAMPTON COUNTY, subject to the Democratic Primary, May 28, 1966.
As many of you know, my principal means of making a living is tax counseling and tax service. This is therefore a very busy time for me and will continue so until April 15th, thus making it most difficult to do much campaigning at the present.
Much as I would like to see each of you before primary day, May 28th, 1966, it is going to be almost impossible; however, every effort will be made to contact you. Should I be unable to see you, let me take this opportunity to ask for your vote and active support in my behalf.
Upon my election to the honorable office of Clerk of Superior Court, you may be assured that my best efforts will be exerted to maintain the dignity of the office, to operate it efficiently and impartially with courtesy and accommodation to all.
Thank you in advance for your vote and support.
Sincerely your candidate,
BART BURGWIN
