SEVERE ATTACKS OF INDIGESTION

Mississippian Says All He Dared Eat Was a Little Bread and Butter - Found Black-Draught Relieved His Trouble.

Weir, Miss .- "I had very severe attacks of indigestion," said Mr. M. H. Wade, of this place. "I would suffer for months at a time. All I dared eat was a little bread and butter . . . consequently I suffered from weakness. I would try to eat, then the terrible suffering in my stomach! I took medicines, but dld not get any better. The druggist recommended Thedford's Black-Draught and I decided to try it, for, as I say, I had tried others for two or more years without any improvement in my health. I soon found the Black-Draught was acting on my liver and easing the terrible pain.

"In two or three weeks, I found I could go back to eating. I only weighed 123. Now I weigh 147-eat anything I want to, and by taking Black-Draught I do not suffer.'

In an attack of indigestion, one of the first things to do is to clear the stomach and bowels of all undigested food particles, and Thedford's Black-Draught has been found very helpful in doing this. A small dose, after each meal, has been found of great benefit to persons who are threatened with, or who are disposed to, attacks of indigestion. Black-Draught assists the stomach to carry on its important work of digestion, and at the same time mildly stimulates the liver to do
