THE ROTARY WHEEL

(By John Parris, Jr.)

The Sylva Rotary Club wishes to extend a vote of thanks to the Junior Club of Sylva for the fine co-operation they gave during the presentation of the play "Once In A Blue Moon." They also wish to extend a vote of thanks to the public as a whole for the fine way that they helped in putting over the play. And through this column, they wish to thank each and every community in Jackson county which helped to make the play a success.

The proceeds from the play went to the C. J. Harris Community Hospital. This amount was matched dollar for dollar by the Duke Endowment Fund, of which the local hospital is one of many in the State that is included in the fund.

Whitt Mease, principal of the Cullowhee High school, has become a member of the Rotary Club, and is heartily welcomed into the club by the entire group.

Pigs, given by the Rotary Club have been distributed over the county to many farm boys who are raising them.

E. V. Vestal, county farm agent and a member of the Rotary Club, wishes to thank the Rotarians for their support in making the Jackson County Poultry Show a great success.

JACKSON COUNTY HAS FINE BARRED ROCKS

It is believed, by those in a position to know, that the finest exhibit of Barred Rock chickens ever shown in this section of the state was on exhibition here, on last Friday and Saturday. The show was held in Mrs. D. L. Love's warehouse, near the Southern Railway station.

Last spring, the Farmers' Federation, through its hatcheries at Asheville, Sylva and Spindale, offered three cash prizes for Barred Rocks which had been grown from baby chicks bought from one of its hatcheries. The offer was made to encourage the establishment of bigger and better purebred flocks around each of the hatcheries and on farms over the western part of the state. Jackson county captured two of the prizes and, had the judging been done from the standpoint of the chickens alone, would have taken all three; but buildings and equipment had to be considered. Mr. S. T. Crisp was awarded the second prize and Mrs. A. J. Dills the third.

The State Co-operative Poultry Marketing is authority for the statement that Jackson county has been furnishing the best poultry for the market, of any section of the state, and local poultry authorities say that the local hatchery and co-operating agencies deserve the credit.

The Farmers' Federation has operated a hatchery at Sylva for some years, in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture and Extension of State College, under the management of Mr. Geo. E. Evans, vice-president of the Baby Chicks Association of the State Hatcherymen's Association. Mr. Evans is also promotion manager for the Farmers' Federation, of Asheville.

According to Mr. Evans and Mr. J. R. Jones, local promoter, the Sylva hatchery will begin operations about the first of January.

Flock owners are advised to rush their flocks into heavy egg production as fast as possible, in order to have the pullets in lay long enough before the hatching season, so the eggs will be of sufficient size (24 or more per dozen, weight) to insure maximum fertility and strong chicks.

Felix in the Flesh

Virginia Hyrut, Oaklyn, N. J., took Felix—pedigree unknown—the common cat and dog show Philadelphia, where for the first year he walked away with high prize.

Samuel Insull Today

Samuel Insull, as he appeared at Athens, Greece, while combating extradition on request of the U. S. State Department to face charges in Illinois courts, as a result of the collapse of Insull Utilities in the Midwest.

According to poultry authorities, this can only be accomplished by full feeding on grain, mash, green feed and shells, with good housing and sanitation. Blood testing for white diarrhoea extermination, will begin about the first of December, according to E. V. Vestal, county agent.

GARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the people of Jackson county for the highly appreciated floral offerings, and for the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavement.
