The Thinning Ranks of Blue

Memorial Day each year brings ever thinning ranks of blue to pay tribute to and decorate the graves of departed comrades. The scene above shows veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, Lincoln Post, Chicago, in Memorial Day Tribute.

Fried First Doughnut

NEW YORK... Major Helen Purviance (above), of the Salvation Army, is credited with "trying the first doughnut in France" for our doughboys during the World War. She is now dean of women at the Army Training College here and was given a party last week.

Choose Your Weapons

BOSTON... Patrick J. Daune, 75 (above), District Court Judge, is perfectly willing for Governor Curley to test his physical fitness -- "in personal combat -- choose your weapons." Gov. Curley's proposal "that aging jurists be subject to mental and physical tests for fitness," brought the challenge.

Heads Wellesley

OBERLIN, O... Mildred Helen McAfee, 38 (above), has been elected president of Wellesley (Mass.) College, the seventh of the famous old school for women. Miss McAfee has been dean of Oberlin College here.

Charges Blackmail

NEW YORK... Alvin F. Smith, Jr. (above), brought about the indictment of two men for a complaint of blackmail of more than $10,000 in cash, and it took a young woman figured. Smith claims to have also given prosecu- tory notes up to $10,000.
