

SPORTS OF THE COUNTY

BE A SPORT—BUY ANOTHER BOND

If you have any sporting blood in you, you will know by now that the Seventh War Loan is on and that you are supposed to buy another bond. Even tho it looks like the war is going our way we remember that the boys are still fighting and that they still need our support. Many of them, as a matter of fact about all, are buying bonds in addition to their fighting. They realize the need for funds to carry on the war and so they are doing all that they can in two ways.

We people at home are only asked to buy all the bonds that we can and that, if you ask us, is not much in view of what some are doing.

Person County has a large quota in E bonds. It is not one that we cannot reach but it is one that will require a bit of buying. Since this column is supposed to be a sport column let's put it this way. Buy another bond or two and bring the boys home. Then they can enjoy the sports that we now enjoy—and many other things too.

Advanced Training

(1) Fists, rifle butts and flying tackles were the means employed by a platoon of Marines studying field problems, without ammunition, when they captured five Japs on an island somewhere in the Central Pacific. The incident occurred several weeks after the island was declared "secured." (2) Private First Class Edward F. McQuillan of Lynn, Mass., got the first Jap, slamming him between the shoulder blades with his rifle butt. The Jap sprawled on his face and McQuillan sat on him until the Jap was convinced resistance was useless. (3) Private First Class Donald H. Mills of Shawmut, R. I., brought his Jap down with a flying tackle. But when the enemy reached for a grenade it was too much for Mills. The Leatherneck pounded the Jap with his bare fists until he was thoroughly beaten.

(4) Corporal James Miller of Metropolis, Ill., crept behind another Jap and clicked his rifle bolt, as though the weapon was loaded. When the Jap sped off, Miller brought him down with a blow from the butt of his M-1 rifle. The Marine had to drag the enemy 50 yards before he would "cooperate" and walk. (5) Private First Class Charles Fazio of St. Louis, Mo., found a Jap playing possum. However, when the Marine smashed him over the head with his carbine, the Jap, no longer eager to play dead, fumbled for a grenade. Fazio continued hitting him until the carbine broke into three pieces. (6) Private First Class LeRoy Fowler of Miles, Mich., crawled behind another Jap lying in the brush and staring at three Marines who beckoned him to come out. Seeing Fowler, the Jap jumped up and pulled a grenade from his belt. But he meant no harm, for he handed the grenade to the Marine as a token of surrender. The Japanese prisoners were sent back to camp under guard and the Leatherneck platoon went back to its interrupted field problems.

Oil Rationing On Same Basis

Raleigh, May 3.—Simplified fuel oil rationing system, adopted at the beginning of the heating year, ending August 31, will be operative during the 1945-46 heating season, OPA District Director Theodore S. Johnson said today.

In order to start the movement of next winter's supplies, first "period" coupons, having a value of 10 gallons each, will become valid June 1, he said.

About the same amount, or less, fuel oil will be available for civilian use this year, and the rationing program has been organized to provide approximately the same basic rations as last year, he explained. The kerosene supply is expected to be even smaller. One departure from last year's policy, Johnson said will invalidate all of this year's coupons

Three In Florida

Wallace B. Dunn, A. M. First Class, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., formerly of Roxboro, spent the week-end at Miami Beach, Fla., with S. Sgt. J. B. Dunn, Jr., recently sent to that station from Roxboro. Previously in the Pacific for twenty-one months, Wallace B. Dunn has been in Florida for seven months. S. Sgt. Dunn is expected to be transferred soon to Langley Field, Va. He was formerly stationed in the European theatre. While at Miami Beach the two Roxboro men visited McCoy Beaver, also of Roxboro.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE OPENING MONDAY NIGHT AT 7:45 TO BE BIG AFFAIR IN COUNTY

Flashy and snappy will be the word for opening Monday night of the Person County Softball League at the Roxboro High School Athletic field at 7:45. A huge crowd is expected to jam the field when the Longhurst Boys, league pennant holders, tangle with the red and white jerseyed boys of Knight's Insurance Agency. Ca-Vel girls will meet East Roxboro girls. All teams have been driving hard in spring "training", although cold weather and "heavy dew's" have hindered training a great deal. The gaudy colors of the player's uniforms mingled with the snappy music of the high school band will give the night a touch of the "big top". The band will be directed by Miss Wilson. Also on the program to officially open the season will be Mayor S. G. Winstead, to throw out the first ball.

By R. B. Dawes, Jr.

Dunn, the next man, whiffed while Clayton stole second and advanced to third on an error on Helena's catcher. The next batter, Adcock, sacrificed, sending Clayton home. J. Blanks then hit out to retire the side.

Helena came back in their half of the second inning to tie the score. L. Rogers started Helena off with a single. J. Rogers hit to second where L. Rogers was put out on a squeeze play. J. Rogers came in later on errors.

The score at the end of the third inning stood at 3-1 in Roxboro's favor.

In the fifth inning Roxboro sewed up the game. B. Blanks, who led off, was walked. Cecil Carver then stepped into the batter's box and slammed a powerful homer deep in left field. Helena recovered the ball just as Carver touched the home plate. Roxboro added one more tally to their total in the sixth inning when Whitt walked and Street singled him in.
