UNC tight end Greg DeLong. The 6-foot-4, 240-pound junior lumbered the rest of the way — 53 yards for the touchdown. "I was in the right place at the right time," DeLong said. "I'm not sure really what happened."

Neither were the Bobcats, who now stand 0-1. UNC, which moved up to 14th in The Associated Press poll, raised its record to 2-0 on the young season. For the second straight week, the Tar Heels hit the ground running and never had to pass the ball. In two starts, Stanicek has thrown 18 passes. And with all the good news in the running game and the near-shutout defensively, Browns struggled to find something to complain about. But he did.

"We still haven't gotten done what has to be done in the passing game," he said. "I'm not very pleased with it. We had some dropped balls, and had some guys in the wrong place. But we've got to improve there some before next week."

"I'm hoping that we'll continue to improve the passing game. But the running game has been better than expected."

Even the passing game had a bright spot on the night. Senior wide receiver Corey Holliday had two catches on the evening, extending his school record for consecutive games with a catch to 35 and breaking Earl Winfield's record for career receptions. Holliday's 1-yard screen catch with 1:38 remaining in the first half gave him 108 for his career.

"The record doesn't mean that much to me right now," Holliday said. "It'll probably mean something to me after the season is over, but I'm happy to get it behind me. I think it was a little distracting."

North Carolina's first scoring drive was typical for the night — it was short. The longest Tar Heel scoring drive lasted 2:19 as Stanicek marched the offense 44 yards in seven plays. William Henderson rammed the ball in up the middle from 15 yards out to give UNC a 7-0 lead.

Johnson & Johnson provided the most exciting moments of the evening with two electrifying touchdown runs. LJ, who already had a 19-yard second-quarter touchdown under his belt, took an option pitch from Stanicek around the right end, juked two Bobcat defenders and bolted 62 yards to the end zone.

"I was pretty tired," Leon Johnson said. "My pants were wet, I was feeling heavy, so it was like, 'Whew, it's over with, so I can get a little rest.'"

Curtis Johnson found himself still in the game in the fourth quarter with the Tar Heels up 37-3. CJ made the best of the situation by scampering 56 yards around the left side for the sixth UNC rushing touchdown of the evening.

The Tar Heel defense did allow Ohio some semblance of a running game, but stopped every Bobcat drive short with a sack or big play.

Curtis Johnson gained 144 yards on 16 carries in UNC's 44-3 win Saturday.

DAP

see washed-up has-beens missing easy fly balls. It's bad enough fans have to put up with that in the big leagues.

The DAP is a park for young players with a dream, not old ones with a hernia. The outfield is made for players who move at the crack of the bat, not a second later.

Coleman wants parents to mobilize and take control of the park. They can have a Little League schedule that includes week-end and playoff games played at the DAP.

Coleman is convinced that in several years people from across the globe will flock to Durham to watch the Little League World Series at the DAP.

"And don't forget the little bull," Coleman says. When they take the old steam-snooting bull down and move it to Cooperstown, he wants carpenters to put together a smaller bovine.

The outfield fences, of course, will have move in a couple hundred feet. But if Little Leaguers take over the 54-year-old ballpark, baseball at the DAP will never end. Just like the last Bulls game.

Women's Soccer Blanks Maryland In Opener

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — The North Carolina women's soccer squad opened its defense of the NCAA crown with a 7-0 victory against Maryland Sunday.

Junior midfielder Tisha Venturini scored twice for the Tar Heels and senior forward Mia Hamm netted a penalty kick to tie the ACC all-time record for career goals scored.

Hamm now has 212 points, 13 shy of UNC's all-time leader, April Heinrichs, who is the Terps' head coach.

The Tar Heels, meanwhile, extended their NCAA-record win streak to 59 games and their unbeaten streak to 64 games. North Carolina has not lost since a setback to Connecticut on September 17, 1990.

Maryland has never beaten North Carolina in 10 tries.

UNC led 2-0 at halftime on goals by Rita Tower and Hamm and then torched Maryland's defense for five second-half goals. Four of those goals came within the first 23 minutes of the second stanza.

Venturini scored at 55:58 off an assist from senior defender Keri Sanchez. Sanchez then assisted on a goal by Angela Kelly at 65:28 to give the Tar Heels a four-goal cushion.

Freshman Jane Byers scored her first collegiate goal at 68:37 to make it 5-0, then Venturini tallied her second goal 18 seconds later off an assist from Danielle Egan.

Freshman Debbie Keller, who also assisted on Tower's first-half goal, ended the scoring with UNC's seventh goal at 84:46.

The Tar Heels outshot the Terps 25-12. Maryland goalkeeper Cailin Mullins made 10 saves. UNC goalkeepers Shelley Finger and Tracy Noonan combined for six saves.

UNC plays No. 2 Portland Friday in Raleigh.

UCLA Upsets No. 15 Men's Soccer Team

FULLERTON, Calif. — UCLA's Philip Button scored the tie-breaking goal in the 66th minute, lifting the Bruins to a 5-3 win Saturday against 15th-ranked North Carolina at the Chiquita Invitational hosted by Cal-State Fullerton.

The game was the season opener for both squads.

The contest was tied at two at intermission. Senior Todd Haskins and sophomore Kerry Zavagnin scored for the Tar Heels, with junior Ben Di Meo and freshman Hector Suarez, respectively, assisting. Sean Henderson and Button tallied for UCLA.

The Bruins took the lead at the 51-minute mark on a goal by John O'Brien, but North Carolina tied it seven minutes later with a goal by senior David Moore, assisted by fellow senior Derek Kepner.

But eight minutes later, Button scored an empty-net goal, assisted by O'Brien. Eric Chiasongkram scored an unassisted insurance goal for the Bruins in the game's final two minutes.

No. 2 Field Hockey Blanks William & Mary, Radford

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — Led by seniors Jennifer Blizzard and Stephanie Walsh, the second-ranked UNC field hockey squad won its second straight game Sunday, topping William & Mary 7-0.

UNC led 2-0 at halftime, but, like its women's soccer counterparts, broke the game open with a five-goal barrage in the second stanza.

Blizzard and Walsh scored two goals each, while junior Barbara Hansen tallied three assists. Senior Cinda Carpenter, sophomore Monica Irwin and freshman Meredith Lawrence also scored for the Tar Heels.

UNC outshot the Tribe 28-6. Tar Heel goalkeeper Peggy Storrar had six saves.

North Carolina is now 2-0 on the season. The Tar Heels beat Radford 10-0 Saturday.
