

You may recognize her as an outstanding athlete, student or leader. We're recognizing her for it all.

Mia Hamm, Soccer
University of North Carolina

She's made a name for herself. In her sport. And at her school. Which is why she's been chosen as a Honda Award winner by vote of over 800 NCAA member schools. For her athletic success as well as her leadership abilities, academic performance and community involvement. In honor of her hard work, Honda will make a donation to her school's general scholarship fund. It's yet another accomplishment to add to her list.
