BRABHAM'S LAST DAY

He Looks at His Coffin and Burial Suit of Clothes

(Special to State Chronicle)

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 1.—Every thing preparatory to the hanging of Henry Brabham, Moca's murderer, has been perfected. Brabham was shown his coffin and new suit of clothes purchased by his father, who lives in Charleston, to-day.

The hanging will be done privately to-morrow morning at eleven o'clock; only a limited number of tickets have been issued.

Charlotte will assume its accustomed quiet attitude when Brabham's body is shipped to Charleston to-morrow at noon.

BRABHAM IN TEARS.

Wednesday's Charlotte Chronicle.

Behold he weeps!

Brabham, the hardened criminal, whose remarkable nerve and reckless indifference to the awful fate awaiting him to-morrow, broke down last night completely and in tears sought Sheriff Smith for his forgiveness for his attack on him Monday evening.

He seems now to realize that he is "a prisoner without hope," and that he must to-morrow pay the penalty on the gallows for the numerous crimes which have marked him as the "chief of sinners."

He is chained hand and foot in his cell, and there is no way possible for him to escape.

The execution will take place at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

IT WAS A SUCCESS.

The Sale of Lots in the Progressive City of Winston.

(Special to STATE CHRONICLE)

WINSTON, N. C., July 1.—The sale of the seventy-seven lots offered by the West End Hotel and Land Company this evening was very successful. There was a large crowd of substantial bidders. The greatest interest was manifested in it. If any further proof was needed of the value of Winston lots, the rapid manner in which they were disposed of at fair and satisfactory prices satisfies this want. The company is receiving congratulations on every side.

TRAT BARDSEY CONFESION

Was Not Published Because it Exposed Some Men of Influence.

(By United Press)

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—It has been rumored for some time past that Bardsley, the ex-city treasurer, really made a confession which involved names of such prominent people that its publication was stopped. There seems no longer to be any doubt as to the truth of the story, and it is believed by the investigating committee that the confession is locked up in the safe of one of the leading newspapers of this city. There has been a studied effort from the first; from influences unseen to block the investigation and to shield those who have been mixed up with Bardsley and Marsh. Whether the confession will be published is doubtful, but the committee hope to have the use of it to aid them in developing clues.

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

Chairman Brice Calls on the Democrats of the Country to Organize Their Clubs.

By The United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1.—Hon. Calvin S. Brice, Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, has issued circulars to the members of the National Committee and to the Chairmen of the Democratic State Committees wherein he puts great stress upon the importance of thorough organization of the Democracy for the coming campaign and particularly urges the formation of Democratic clubs in every State and neighborhood.

In his circular to chairmen of State committees Mr. Brice says: "The importance of immediate preparation for the Presidential campaign of next year must be obvious to every Democrat. The timely and energetic conduct of our opponents would be warning enough if there were no other reason for it."

It is evident that they expect decisive results upon their extensive and well organized system of Republican clubs. It will be sustained by money without stint drawn from the pockets of the beneficiaries of the monopoly policy maintained by that party.

It can be met only by an equally extensive and well organized system of democratic societies. The latter is more appropriate to our purpose since it was the first organization of democratic party in the United States and was the instrument of agitation and defence employed by the fathers of the democratic party in the first great struggle in resistance to federalism and for the restoration of constitutional government.

BLAINE IS WORSE.

He Takes a Bad Turn and His Family is Alarmed.

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, July 1.—A special to the Mail and Express from Bar Harbor says that Mr. Blaine had a bad turn shortly after dinner last evening, and a physician was summoned. The attack proved to be not very severe, but it alarmed the family. To-day he is much better. The special adds that Mr. Blaine is thin and sallow, and suffers from nervous prostration. His voice has lost its strength, and he easily becomes horse and coughs frequently if he talks much. It is hard to get him to take the rest that he needs. He is an indefatigable worker. The Marquis Imperial, Secretary of the Italian Legation, is at the Bar Harbor to-day to consult Mr. Blaine.

LATER.

BAR HARBOR, Me., July 1.—Mr. Blaine took two outings to-day. In the morning he rode about town and this afternoon he took a long drive. At one time during the drive Mr. Blaine alighted from the carriage and took a short walk. The physician who is in attendance upon the Secretary says Mr. Blaine's health has constantly improved since coming here. He says the improvement is slow, but he believes Mr. Blaine will be in a good state of health before the close of this summer.

ENGLAND SHOULD BE VIGILANT.

For France Sees a Chance to Annex Siam and Claim a Part of India.

(By Cable.)

LONDON, July 1.—The Standard, commenting upon the French occupation of the Province of Luang Prabong, supposes the movement is a prelude to an eventual attempt by the French to Annex Siam, with the object of aiding Russian designs in Eastern Asia. Continuing, the Standard says: "Such a project is certain to involve antagonism on the part of China. Should the project succeed it would bring French Siam into proximity with British Burmah. In the present temper of the French, it behooves England to be vigilant."

England Plays Her Game.

By Cable.

PARIS, July 1.—The Temps, in discussing the renewal of the triple alliance, says that England's undertaking to protect Italy from a French attack is not needed, because such an attack is utterly improbable. The obvious design of England is to maintain the balance of power in the Mediterranean without favoring any individual power.
