

NOV. 3 RED LETTER CANVASS DAY HERE

Town Organizes Building And Loan Association And Starts Drive.

BOYD NAMED PRESIDENT

Friday, Nov. 3, will see the recently named Board of Directors of the Warrenton Building and Loan Association busy in a canvass to carry the total number of shares to more than 1000. The organization committee, in session on Wednesday evening, named W. N. Boyd as chairman of the South Warrenton canvassers and C. R. Rodwell was the choice to lead the Northerners.

More than 650 shares of stock have already been secured by Louis C. Witherspoon and with the apparent interest in the new town organization, it is said that the goal of 1000 should be reached following the red-letter-day drive.

Organize In Court House Tuesday.

The Building & Loan Committee was organized in the Court House here on Tuesday evening with the election of W. N. Boyd, President; G. B. Gregory, Vice President, and L. C. Witherspoon, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Board of Directors include Edmund White, Gordon Poindexter, M. C. McGuire, James B. Boyce Jr., E. E. Gillam, W. Brodie Jones, W. R. Strickland; C. R. Rodwell, C. F. Moseley, Weldon Hall, W. M. Gardner and S. E. Burroughs. The Executive Committee include the President, Vice President, Secretary-Treasurer and Messrs. Gordon Poindexter and W. Brodie Jones.

The plans of the organization call for the opening of the first series on Nov. 4. The purpose of the Red Letter Day is to secure by a drive the maximum subscription to the stock, it was pointed out by the organization committee at the meeting on Wednesday night. A spirit of rivalry between the canvassers of the North and South sections is expected to develop and there was some talk of having the losers pay for the canvassers supper at the Hotel Warren on the night of the 3rd.

Members of Committees.

Members of the North End Canvassing Committee are Chairman C. R. Rodwell, E. E. Gillam, M. C. McGuire, Weldon Hall, C. F. Moseley, S. E. Burroughs and those who will solicit stock from the southern end of town are Chairman W. N. Boyd, Walter Gardner, W. Brodie Jones, Gordon Poindexter, James B. Boyce Jr., W. R. Strickland, Market Street, running East and West by the Citizens Bank, is the dividing line.

Street Banner and Barrel.

A street banner will impress the campaign upon the minds and a course is to be marked on main street, with a goal at a thousand shares, and as stock is sold the Building & Loan barrel will move toward the over-subscription mark.

This stock will pay 6 per cent. tax free, the officers of the company who handle funds are bonded, the books are inspected by the State Insurance Commission, and loans are made only on first mortgages on real estate, and then only after the Board of Directors have passed upon the value of the property.

It was pointed out in a recent address here by Editor J. T. Stainback of Roanoke Rapids that a Building & Loan Association had not failed in North Carolina since the passage of the Building & Loan Act which made it incumbent upon the Insurance Department to audit the books of such organizations.

With these facts in mind and the pressing needs for more homes in Warrenton, business men here say that the campaign points to a success, and the canvassing committees, according to their members, are going to put the push of determination in the Red Letter Day canvass, Nov. 3.

Man: "Oh, no, madam! I cut it off long ago."—Target.

N. C. Woman Christens Raleigh As Ship Glides To Waves

QUINCY, MASS., Oct. 25.—Successful as all hearts could desire was the launching of the scout cruiser Raleigh at the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Ship Building Corporation at Quincy this afternoon.

On the minute when the ship was scheduled to slide into the water the big hull began moving. At the same instant the sponsor, Miss Jennie Proctor of Raleigh, dashed a ribbon-bedecked bottle against her prow, saying: "I christen thee Raleigh." As the crystal fluid trickled downward toward the keel its drop were mingled with the briny waters of the river, the ship floating off majestically.

Informal Luncheon.

Preceding the launching was an informal luncheon given at the Neighborhood Club, at which greetings to the visitors were given by the mayors of Quincy and Boston, and Mayor Eldridge of Raleigh. The visitors from Raleigh were taken on an automobile drive to Cambridge, Brookline and other suburbs. In the evening a dinner was given at the Algonquin Club by Mrs. S. W. Wakeman, general manager of the ship building plant, followed by a box party at the opera.

Big Fighting Craft.

The keel of the scout cruiser which was launched at the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Ship Building Corporation, Ltd., today was laid on August 16, 1920.

The Raleigh's displacement is 7,100 tons, and she is built to make 31 knots an hour. To enable her to do this, she will be equipped with four propellers, each propeller being driven through a reduction gear by one high pressure, one intermediate pressure, and one low pressure high speed turbine engine.

Polk And Burwell Talk to Students

William T. Polk spoke at the chapel exercises in the Warrenton State High School Thursday morning on the value of higher education. "Education," he outlined, "was like a mountain. When we scale its heights, much that we could not see earlier comes clear in view." School was but a preparation for a life of more useful service, he held, and as such was an opportunity not to be neglected.

Former Major R. O. B. Burwell of New York, an able student of Spanish, who is visiting his relative here, talked to the Spanish Class of the school yesterday afternoon. Mr. Burwell's knowledge of the language, gleaned in school and while in service with the Marines, impressed and benefited the students, it was said.

Plan To Carry Red Cross Drive Over In Warren In One Day

Plans are to be made this week for the annual Red Cross Roll Call which will start on Armistice Day, County Chairman S. E. Burroughs said this week. A large percentage of the funds raised this Fall are to help alleviate the suffering of children in the Near East, the Red Cross has announced.

The county quota of a 1000 will be sought through township organizations. The details of the campaign will be announced following a conference between Mrs. Katherine P. Arrington, Chairman of the Red Cross Chapter in Warren, Chairman of the Roll Call S. E. Burroughs, Miss Gladys Gordy, head of Junior work, and W. Brodie Jones, in charge of publicity.

Indications are that the campaign will be made during one day. The workers to be appointed will be asked after a conference here, to comply with these plans and write many names of fellow citizens upon the scroll of mercy.

Ross, local physician, who announced that he had ushered in the first new style baby. It is minus a fifth toe, otherwise the feet are in perfect shape.

Dr. Ross stated tonight that the tendency has been toward four toes instead of five ever since sharp-toed shoes came in style. The doctor believes that the baby born today gives conclusive proof.

District Missionary Societies Meet With Warrenton Church

Members of the Methodist Missionary Societies from practically every organization in the Weldon district gathered here on Tuesday as guests of the Missionary Society of the Warrenton Methodist Church for a discussion of their work and a visualization of their opportunities.

The delegates and visitors were welcomed by Miss Amma D. Graham, District Secretary. Dr. J. T. Gibbs led the devotional exercises of the morning.

Mrs. McKinnie of Louisburg opened the program with a strong appeal for the work. She was followed by Mrs. John H. Harrison of Littleton, who contrasted in original verse the methods of the missionary of today with the worker of yesterday.

President A. W. Mohn of Louisburg College, formerly at Key West, Florida, and the Sue Bennett School in London, Ky., gave a resume of the mission work of Southern Methodism at these two points.

After a splendid picnic dinner on the grounds the convention went again into session. Following a song by the Junior Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, memorial exercises were held for Miss Belle Bennett, former President of the Missionary Board of the Southern Methodist Church. Prof. Mohn, Mrs. H. C. Spires of Weldon and Mrs. McKinnie of Louisburg, all personal friends of Miss Bennett, praised her character and service to the church.

A particularly fine report was made by the Young Peoples' Missionary Society of Providence Church, the secretary of the convention said yesterday.

As a final item of a busy day program the convention named a committee of Warren persons to co-ordinate missionary activity in the county and to carry forward with increasing zeal the purposes of missionary Methodism. In the absence of Miss Graham, who is in Rich Square, the personnel of this committee could not be learned.

Change Manager And Grader At Norlina Co-op. Warehouse

More satisfaction is being expressed this week over the advance price and general management of the tobacco co-operative warehouse at Norlina since C. H. Hicks has taken control of the property for the Tri-State Tobacco Association. The former grader has gone to other fields and J. H. Leigh of Mullins, S. C., is allowing advances more in keeping with value, it was said at Norlina on Wednesday.

Assistant Manager C. B. Cheatham of Henderson was at Norlina this week with District Supervisor W. M. Young and expressed themselves pleased with the manner in which the warehouse is now being managed.

Tobacco is being received every day except Saturday, Manager Hicks remarked. "We are receiving as much tobacco as we expected and the farmers are satisfied," he said.

"The souls of little children are marvelously delicate and tender things, and keep forever the shadow that first falls on them, and that is the mother's or at best a woman's. The first six years of life make us; all that is added is veneer."

CO-OPS. VS. BALL CASE CONTINUED

Warren Tobacco Farmer Restrained From Selling On Warehouse Floors.

SOLD ABOUT 3,000 POUNDS

The case against W. J. Ball for violating the contract of the Tri-State Tobacco Association by selling on the open market had been continued, Mr. Ball said here yesterday afternoon. The trial was to be held in Raleigh on Monday before Judge Lyon, but has been postponed.

A restraining order has been served on the Warren County tobacco producer to keep him from selling any more of his tobacco on the open floor.

Mr. Ball said yesterday that he had sold about 3,000 pounds at auction and that he had around 20,000 pounds on the plantation, though much of this was half-share tobacco.

Messrs. Polk & Polk are appearing in defense of Ball in the suit brought by the Co-operative Association.

The legal victory of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association won at Nashville, N. C., and confirmed by the announcement of Judge Frank Daniels at Plymouth that its contracts with members are binding and enforceable by injunction was followed up at once by the filing of further suits by the Association against fourteen members in eight counties asking damages at the rate of five cents a pound for all tobacco sold in violation of the contract plus attorneys' fees.

Six growers are ordered to appear before Judge C. C. Lyon in Raleigh next Monday are Henry A. Mason of Wake County, Al Walker of Wake County, J. T. Daniel of Granville County, David Gurganus of Greene County, C. E. and M. T. Winstead of Person County and W. J. Ball of Warren County whose cases involve damages and attorneys' fees of more than $6800.

That the Association will go to the limit in protecting the interests of its loyal members by suits against contract breakers is evidenced from the fact that all the suits now on file are on printed forms and apply to members both in the old belt and Eastern North Carolina.

The second cash payment by the Association to all members in South Carolina will be made next week, and, according to M. L. Sands, the Association could go out of business today and make every member who has delivered tobacco two more payments, each as large as the first.

"There was never a company formed with a business as big as yours which has run as smoothly and successfully as your association," the manager of the big cooperative told its members in Eastern Carolina.
