

TWO ARE KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Funeral Services Held Here
For Mrs. V. F. Harrison
And Gordon Alston

MANY FRIENDS GATHER

LITTLETON, Jan. 1.—Funeral services were held at Littleton Sunday for Mrs. V. F. Harrison and Gordon Alston who were killed when a car driven by V. F. Harrison crashed into a truck on the Littleton-Roanoke Rapids highway Friday night. Mrs. Harrison died instantly. Mr. Alston died shortly after reaching the Roanoke Rapids hospital. Mr. Harrison received severe cuts but was not seriously injured. Horace Robinson, the other occupant of the car, escaped without injury.

Funeral services for Mr. Alston were held in the morning, and in the afternoon friends gathered at the Methodist church to pay last tribute to Mrs. Harrison.

Both Mr. Alston and Mrs. Harrison were members of two of Littleton's oldest families, Mrs. Harrison having been Miss Rebie Johnston, daughter of the late Colonel and Mrs. W. W. Johnston. Besides her husband, V. F. Harrison of Littleton, she is survived by four sisters, Mrs. F. A. Fetter of Raleigh, Mrs. S. W. Turner of Davie, West Virginia, Mrs. John Leach and Mrs. Irma Ryder of Littleton, and two brothers, L. M. Johnston of Littleton and Foster Johnston of Rockingham. Mrs. Harrison was prominent not only in social circles, but in all phases of church and civic activities.

Manse Parks driver of the truck, and his companion, James Blue, both negroes, were not hurt when the five-ton truck left the road and turned over. They hailed a passing car which carried Mr. Alston to the hospital. No blame was attached to the driver of the truck.

There was a beautiful birthday cake with candles and many attractive and useful gifts. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis gave a party for the younger set on January 1st. As is the case in this hospitable home, an evening of fun and merriment prevailed. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Humming Birds Inspired This

Humming birds are the most efficient flyers, believes Paul Maiwurm, San Diego, Calif., inventor, and they, instead of sea gulls, should be the inspiration for man-made airplanes. He is shown here with the machine which, he claims, will rise from a standstill. A motor of his own design revolves the barrel-like apparatus to supply the lifting power. Maiwurm calls his machine 'the "Flywirm."

and dependency on the rest of the world. For it is literally true that the "self-supporting" man or woman has become as extinct as the man of the stone age. Without the help of thousands of others, any one of us would die, naked and starved. Consider the bread upon our table, the clothes upon our backs, the luxuries that make life pleasant; how many men worked in sunlit fields, in dark mines, in the fierce heat of molten metal, and among the looms and wheels of countless factories, in order to create them for our use and enjoyment.

Realize Dependence

I am proud that we of this State have grown to realize this dependence, and, what is more important, have also come to know that we, as individuals, in our turn must give our time and our intelligence to help those who have helped us. To secure more of life's pleasures for the farmer; to guard the toilers in the factories and to insure them a fair wage and protection from the dangers of their trades; to compensate them by adequate insurance for injuries received while working for us, to open the doors of knowledge to their children more widely, to aid those who are crippled and ill, to pursue with strict justice, all evil persons who prey upon their fellow men, and at the same time, by intelligent and helpful sympathy, to lead wrongdoers into right paths. All of these great aims of life are more fully realized here than in any other State in the union. We have just started on the road, and we have far to go; but during the last six years in particular, the people of this State have shown their impatience of those who seek to make such things a football of politics or by blind un-intelligent obstruction, attempt to bar the road to progress.

Flu Epidemic Is Creating Record Demand for Vicks

432,000 Jars Every 24 Hours
Needed to Keep the Nation
Supplied with Vapor-Salve

Flu Milder But Widespread

That the public has not forgotten the lesson of 1918 is indicated by its prompt response to the warning of health authorities to combat the flu by keeping free from colds.

The demand for Vicks VaporRub, the vaporizing salve which proved so valuable during the 1918 epidemic, has already shattered by a wide margin all previous records.

Although the capacity of the Vicks laboratories has been tripled since 1918, they are once more operating night shifts to meet the national emergency.

The present output of more than 432,000 jars a day almost staggers the imagination. It means that every 60 seconds, day and night, over 3600 jars of Vicks are going out to check the nation's cold and help ward off the flu.

Mild though it is in comparison with 1918, this year's epidemic has already affected more than a million persons, and it is apparently still increasing.—Adv.

We are glad to see this cool snap. We believe it will help in the battle against the flu.

Monday is first Monday and we will have a crowd in town. It will be a pleasure to have our friends from the county pay us a special visit that day. The next Monday is the first day of court week.

The little Christmas trees are being moved to the high school lot. We hope that many of them will live and bring a touch of color and beauty to the grounds there. They certainly did improve Main street.

In spite of inventories, interest is being maintained in Ye Olde Checker Game.

Most wives hope their daughters will marry more wisely than their mothers did.

We welcome the teachers back to Warrenton. We trust that they have enjoyed the holidays at their respective homes.

If experience is a good teacher some of us ought to be a lot brighter by this time than we appear to be.

No man can go completely to the dogs without a good deal of determination.

Every wife seems to think her husband should be able to combine the qualities of an adventurer and a saint.

Come in to see us.
